Test Franchise Rights Of Men In Relief Camp

Case in University of British Columbia Area Watched to Determine Procedure in Other Districts As Federal Voters' List Compiled

Name Not Taken By Enumerator

Canadian Press
Vancouver, Nov. 8.—Qualification of persons living in relief camps for the federal voters' list for the electoral district in which the camp is located will be decided in a test case to be placed before the county court.

The case in point is that of an unemployed man from Winnipeg who has been resident in the relief camp in the University of British Columbia area for the last two years.

The enumerator did not take this man's name and the applicant appealed to Registrar W. G. Stickney in Vancouver South for inclusion in the list. Mr. Stickney, sitting in court of revision, ruled that under the franchise act he could not consider the relief camp as a domicile.

The applicant, whose name was not revealed, will take an appeal into County Court. It is understood. On decision of the appeal will hang the outcome of many similar cases throughout the province.

At some relief camps, registrars have permitted names to be enumerated on the grounds the men are domiciled within the electoral district in which the camps are situated in that they were definitely residents of the area before going into relief camps.

"EPIC" CONTEST IN ASSEMBLY

Associated Press
San Francisco, Nov. 8.—The die was cast today for a contest between Union Sinclair's "EPIC" faction and old-line Democrats for control of the party in California. The former Socialist, defeated by the Republican Governor Frank P. Merriam in his bid for governorship as a Democratic nominee, nevertheless gained a foothold in other states offices in Tuesday's election.

Culbert Olson, Sinclair's chief campaign lieutenant, was elected to the state senate. "EPIC" backers captured at least seven seats in the Assembly and one of the four places on the state board of equalization, important tax and liquor control body.

The call to battle for control of the party was issued by Olson in his capacity as Democratic state central committee chairman.

Jellicoe Book Gives Reply To Ex-premier

C. SPENCER NEW P.G.E. OFFICIAL

Board of Directors Name Him Vice-president of Government System

Canadian Press
Vancouver, Nov. 8.—Chris Spencer of Vancouver today was elected vice-president of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway at a directors' meeting here, succeeding W. J. Blake Wilson, who died earlier in the year. Hon. John Hart, Minister of Finance, read a letter from Premier Pattullo, president of the railway board, suggesting Mr. Spencer be appointed to the vice-presidency.

"For many years he has given of his time and attention without remuneration for the benefit of the public service," Mr. Hart said in suggesting the appointment. He also paid tribute to the service rendered by the late Mr. Wilson.

New Films Will Follow Election

Hollywood, Calif., Nov. 8.—Attributing the expansion of activity to the "overwhelming" victory of Governor Frank P. Merriam, Republican in the California election, a Paramount Studio announcement today said eighteen new films had been scheduled for this year's programme and 300 new employees added to the studio payroll.

FLIERS SET RECORD

Cathcart Jones (lower) and Ken Waller (top), have to their credit one of the most remarkable flights in aviation history—a race across three continents and back in thirteen days six hours and forty-two minutes. During the flight, they completed the round trip in the England—Melbourne Air Derby, and then flew back to England from Australia in five days fifteen hours. During the 22,000-mile flight, they stopped almost two days at Melbourne, the same at Athens, and a day at Alhambra, India; in other words, they completed the round trip in less than seven days' flying time.

At some relief camps, registrars have permitted names to be enumerated on the grounds the men are domiciled within the electoral district in which the camps are situated in that they were definitely residents of the area before going into relief camps.

The case in point is that of an unemployed man from Winnipeg who has been resident in the relief camp in the University of British Columbia area for the last two years.

BIG HAILSTONES FALL ON PRAIRIE

Canadian Press
Saskatoon, Nov. 8.—Farmers who were battered by hail storms during the summer, will reflect with satisfaction that at least one severe bombardment could do no damage to standing crops. It fell at Paynton this morning, accompanied by heavy thunder and lightning. The storm began at 6:30 o'clock and lasted half an hour. The hailstones were more than half an inch in diameter.

Man Who Commanded British Grand Fleet in War Says Lloyd George's Suggestions Valueless

By THOMAS T. CHAMPION
Canadian Press Staff Writer
London, Nov. 8.—Earl Jellicoe in a book published today under the title of "The Submarine Peril and Admiralty Policy, 1917," replied to criticisms of Rt. Hon. David Lloyd George in adopting the convoy system to guard against submarine attacks.

Mr. Lloyd George spoke of "the stunned pessimism of the Admiralty, the fear-dimmed eyes of our admirals, and the atmosphere there of crouching nervousness." Earl Jellicoe's sentences are less pungent, though he contrives occasionally to introduce a tart thrust.

"One of my difficulties in 1917," says the former commander of the British Fleet, "was to make the Prime Minister realize the fact the whole Allied cause was dependent on the Grand Fleet."

SUGGESTIONS WERE FUTILE
"It is true Mr. Lloyd George did make one of two suggestions to me for dealing with the submarine menace, but these were of such a nature they could not have emanated from the brain of any naval officer."

"They were not, however, so strange as the one sent me by a gentleman who said the obvious solution was to fill the North Sea with the submarines to the surface."

Mr. Lloyd George seemed obsessed with the idea, the opinions of junior officers were of more value than those of the seniors, says Earl Jellicoe.

NEW HOLIDAY IS PROCLAIMED

People of British Columbia will have two full holidays at Christmas time this year. Under an amendment to the Interpretation Act last session, December 26, better known as Boxing Day, was specified as a holiday and this has now been proclaimed by the Lieut.-Governor-in-Council, making it a non-judicial day for the purposes of the Banks and Exchange Act. All shops and places of business will close as it is a statutory holiday.

ELECTED ARCHBISHOP

Cardiff, Nov. 8.—Rt. Rev. Charles Alfred Green, Anglican Bishop of Bangor, was elected Archbishop of Wales at a meeting of the electoral college at Llandrindodwell today.

PARIS POLICE BREAK UP STREET MOB AS CABINET CHANGES

Threat of Riot Grows As Pierre Flandin Succeeds Gaston Doumergue As Premier; Lines of Guards Broken, But Police on Horseback Go Into Action and Drive Crowds From Streets About Opera House

Canadian Press from Havas
Paris, Nov. 8.—Pierre Etienne Flandin, Minister of Public Works in the Doumergue Government, accepted President Albert Lebrun's invitation to form a new government today after Premier Gaston Doumergue had resigned.

M. Flandin was the second to be called after "Papa" Doumergue's so-called "truce" government had collapsed when the Radical-Socialists resigned and left the seventy-one-year-old statesman without a parliamentary majority. Pierre Laval, who was Foreign Minister in the Doumergue Government, was called early in the day, but he refused the post.

The day's events were followed by a street incident in the evening. Shouting thousands of persons smashed through police lines in front of the Opera as many of the throng cried, "Down with the deputies."

Authorities, who feared disorders would ensue following the Doumergue cabinet's resignation, had drawn up police in troop formation. The massing of police was made in an effort to overawe the crowd, but the throng broke the dark blue ranks.

SCORES ARRESTED
Scores of demonstrators were arrested. Thousands of persons swarmed the boulevards. The square in front of the Opera—the Place de l'Opera—was speckled with the crowd.

Police, on horseback, carried out their duty. The throng, however, were ordered into action, and lined up against the buildings along the boulevard.

Before the advance of the horse men the crowd thinned, its members moving quickly out of the way. (Turn to Page 2, Col. 4)

POPPI CAMPAIGN APPEAL IS MADE

Canadian Press
Ottawa, Nov. 8.—In a poppy day campaign message to-day Sir Robert Borden, wartime Prime Minister of Canada, said:

"To spirits attuned with the memory of sacrifice, voices from beyond the veil cry unceasingly lest in thought or word or act we should forget those who, returned from the very brink, are still with us. And to everyone in whose soul such memory is enshrined I commend, in the name of all that is merciful, the need that looks in upon our thresholds today."

MACDONALD SPEECH TO BE HEARD HERE
Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald's address at the Lord Mayor's banquet in London will be short-wavecast to the United States and broadcast over the Columbia network from 12:35 to 1:30 p.m. P.S.T., to-morrow. The Prime Minister's speech is considered one of the most important political pronouncements each year, as it generally gives an insight into the government's future policies.

A description of the banquet scene will be included in the broadcast. The new administration in Massachusetts will be headed by James M. Curley, above, a Democrat. Widely known as mayor of Boston, he was elected in the polling Tuesday.

VESSEL AFIRE FEARED LOST

No Trace Found of Freighter Ranan Maru With Crew of Forty-two Near Japan

Tokio, Nov. 8.—Fear that the Japanese freighter Ranan Maru, with a crew of forty-two, was destroyed by fire was expressed today in a Rengo (Japanese News Agency) dispatch from Mitaka, North Hondo Island, Japan.

The vessel early today sent out a radio call for help, saying she was on fire and heading northwest of Mitaka. No further messages have been received from her and rescue ships were unable to locate the distressed freighter, the dispatch stated.

FRENCH GOLD IS SHIPPED TO U.S.

Associated Press
Cherbourg, France, Nov. 8.—More gold started back to the United States yesterday as the dollar reached the gold point.

A shipment of 108,000,000 francs ($110,720) worth of gold, weighing 16,377 pounds, was shipped to New York aboard the liner Berengaria. The gold is going to the Bank of Manhattan and the Chase National Bank.

END OF STRIKE BELIEVED NEAR

Cumberland Miners Consider Proposal For Raise For Haulage Crews
Special to The Times
Cumberland, Nov. 8.—The "original strike committee of seventeen" met Col. C. W. Villiers, general manager of Canadian Collieries Ltd., last night to further negotiate the wage scale of the lower paid mine workers.

Col. Villiers offered an increase of eight cents a day to the underground haulage crew, making a maximum wage of $4.30 a day, instead of $4.22. This does not apply to all men getting $4.22 or less.

A mass meeting was called this afternoon to decide whether the proposal would be accepted by the men. Coupled with this proposal by the company was the condition the men sign an agreement for three years.

The maintenance crews are still working and everything is quiet at the mines.

At union headquarters today union officials emphatically denied that any men were sent to Nanaimo for organization purposes.

Before the advance of the horse men the crowd thinned, its members moving quickly out of the way. (Turn to Page 2, Col. 4)

Two delegates who were sent to Vancouver at the invitation of the labor bodies there, to discuss financial aid, returned yesterday with satisfactory reports.

It is the expressed hope of the citizens here that the end of the strike is in sight.

NEW GOVERNOR OF MASSACHUSETTS

Chicago, T. P. Day, celebrated Italian dramatist, author of "Six Characters in Search of an Author" and other famous plays, to-day was awarded the Nobel Prize in Literature for 1934.

Man and wife lose their lives
Mission City, Nov. 8.—Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Darough of Chilliwack, B.C., died of injuries suffered last Tuesday when their automobile was in collision with a Canadian Pacific Railway passenger train at Dewdney.

The car was totally wrecked and Mr. and Mrs. Darough suffered fractures of the skulls. The husband died in the hospital here yesterday evening and Mrs. Darough died today without regaining consciousness.

NOBEL PRIZE TO ITALIAN AUTHOR

Canadian Press from Havas
Stockholm, Sweden, Nov. 8.—Luigi Pirandello, celebrated Italian dramatist, author of "Six Characters in Search of an Author" and other famous plays, to-day was awarded the Nobel Prize in Literature for 1934.

The new administration in Massachusetts will be headed by James M. Curley, above, a Democrat. Widely known as mayor of Boston, he was elected in the polling Tuesday.

Empress of Britain Is Slightly Delayed

Quebec, Nov. 8.—On her last trip out of Quebec this season, the liner Empress of Britain touched the mud on the bottom of the St. Lawrence River today. As a measure of caution she waited half an hour until the rising tide floated her, then continued her journey. Ship's officers reported no damage was done.

GENERAL TSAI INVITED HERE

Defender of Shanghai in 1932 Asked By Canadian Chinese to Visit City

General Tsai Ting Kai, defender of Shanghai and probably China's greatest living hero, may come to Victoria shortly. It was learned yesterday afternoon. General Tsai is at present on a tour of the United States. An invitation to visit Canada has just been sent to him by Chinese from coast to coast.

General Tsai, in command of the 30,000 odd men of the Chinese 19th Route Army, engaged one third of the total active army, naval and air forces of Japan before Shanghai in 1932.

It had been the boast of the Japanese general, Shio Sawa, that Shanghai would fall within four hours.

COMPARED WITH YPRES
The defence of the Chinese city by a small and poorly equipped force in the face of a highly mechanized modern army has been termed "China's Ypres."

Mussolini, who met Gen. Tsai when the latter visited Europe recently, and who became his personal friend, has termed him one of the world's greatest generals of all time.

During his European trip the general was warmly received by all the powers, especially by Italy. On his present visit to the United States he has everywhere received a similar acclaim.

The general has never yet visited Canada. It is understood that he will welcome the invitation to the Dominion, which is one of China's nearest Pacific neighbors, and which is also the home of many thousands of Chinese.

NOT WAR LORD
Gen. Tsai Ting Kai is not a war lord. He boasts that he is just a good Chinese soldier. He has always been a patriot, especially by general policy of China towards Japan, and has on many occasions refused high offices which have been offered to him.

It is understood that on his arrival in New York from Europe, he received by cable offers of the supreme military command of two southern Chinese provinces. It is probable that he eventually assumed some such position, and he will undoubtedly become one of the leading figures of his nation.

Gen. Tsai is at present little over forty years of age. He generally considered that he has before him one of the greatest careers in all the history of China.

It is expected that a reply to the invitation will be received within two or three days. In the event of acceptance it is probable that the general's visit would start in Victoria.

The celebrations among the local Chinese would be the greatest since the visit of Lee Hung Chun forty years ago.

Plane Is Ready For B.C.-Australia Hop

Republican Party Of U.S. Is Declared Dead

SPEEDBOAT FOR R.C.M.P. ON ATLANTIC COAST

Above is a view of the new fast launch to be used along the Atlantic seaboard by the R.C.M.P. for law enforcement. Built at the Vickers plant at Montreal, it was being tried out in the St. Lawrence prior to departure for the Maritimes when the picture was taken.

As the happy chief executive turned to budgetary and relief problems, late returns on Tuesday's elections carried the Democratic total in the Senate to a record-breaking total of sixty-nine out of the ninety-six seats, and the party membership in the House to 320 out of the 435 seats.

With one Senate and five House contests still undecided, the Democrats had picked up nine seats in the former and six in the latter.

The paramount question occupying observers today was "Will the Administration's policies turn to the right or left?" The Administration view has been that it is proceeding straight down the middle.

SOME PREDICTED THAT Congress, divided into a great majority and a weak minority, would split on lines more economic than political, putting pressure on the White House from right and left in more marked degree than in the past.

U.S. Opposes Naval Parity For Japan

Not Prepared to Accept British Compromise on Armaments; Japanese Delegates Consider Scheme

Associated Press
London, Nov. 8.—Delegates of the United States were opposed today to a British compromise naval programme with Japan, and appeared determined not to grant equality to the Japanese.

Great Britain's tentative proposal, giving Tokyo equality in principle but an inferior position to Great Britain and the United States in actual tonnage, would go a long way toward meeting Japanese demands, naval circles here believed.

The Japanese are studying the proposal from all angles, and may not reply for several days.

Premier Ramsay MacDonald offered the compromise plan yesterday in an effort to break the present deadlock, caused by the British and United States refusals to accept Tokyo's programme.

Tokio dispatches quoted Japanese naval spokesmen as saying the British proposal or any other which did not offer full equality is unacceptable.

WORK PLANS STILL ALIVE

Attorney-General Declares Work and Wages No Idle Objective
Canadian Press
Vancouver, Nov. 8.—"Ottawa can and won't," we would and can't, sums up the situation," declared Attorney-General Gordon yesterday evening, laying at the door of the federal government the blame for the inability of the British Columbia government to carry out its plans for "work and wages."

Mr. Sloan was addressing the Vancouver Centre Liberal Association. "The programme of the Liberal Party, by which it hoped to start public works in this province and provide needed work, was predicated on the use of national credit for a major programme of public works," Mr. Sloan said.

"Work and wages" was no idle objective and still is not. It is the sincere desire of the Pattullo government. We have not been able to carry out this part of our programme because the Prime Minister will not accept as sound the Pattullo plan for financing with national credit."

The Attorney-General reviewed accomplishments of the Pattullo administration. He spoke highly of the leadership of the Premier, stating Mr. Pattullo's wise and guiding influence was felt in every department of the government.

As Democratic Victory Swelled By Late Returns on Congressional Contests Roosevelt Returns to White House to Tackle Job of Steering New Deal Through Second Phase

New Economic Factors in Congress

Associated Press
Washington, Nov. 8.—The unprecedented Democratic majority in the United States Congress continued to climb today as President Roosevelt returned to the White House to steer the New Deal through its second phase.

As the happy chief executive turned to budgetary and relief problems, late returns on Tuesday's elections carried the Democratic total in the Senate to a record-breaking total of sixty-nine out of the ninety-six seats, and the party membership in the House to 320 out of the 435 seats.

Army Officers Teach In Schools In Italy

Associated Press
Rome, Nov. 8.—Army officers in uniform mounted the platforms of the professors to-day and began in high schools and colleges throughout Italy and compulsory military culture courses prescribed by Premier Mussolini and his cabinet, September 18.

From to-day on no high school and college curriculum will be complete without the military culture course, no promotion from class to class will be given, no degree will be awarded unless the student has attended that military course "with profit."

That is part of Mussolini's programme to make Italy a militaristic nation.

U.S. Senate Expected To Vote St. Lawrence Pact

Democratic Leaders, Studying Their Victory at Polls, Believe Treaty Will Be Ratified at Next Session

By HAROLD OLIVER
Associated Press Correspondent
Washington, Nov. 8.—Senate Democratic leaders, taking stock of their amazing new strength, see good reason to believe the St. Lawrence Seaway Treaty with Canada will be approved at the next session.

They are not so certain about the protocol, now a decade old, calling for U.S. adherence to the World Court. The foreign relations committee has set this proposal down for action early in January. Like the seaway treaty it will require a two-thirds vote for adoption.

President Roosevelt strongly advocates the St. Lawrence navigation and power project, designed to open up vast areas of the interior to ocean-going shipping through a deep waterway from the North Atlantic to the Gulf of Mexico.

FLOODS REDEE IN NOVA SCOTIA

Halifax, Nov. 8.—Floods that followed three days of heavy rain were subsiding in Nova Scotia to-day, leaving in their wake a trail of destruction and damage through several counties.

Train services on the Halifax and Southwestern Railway, disrupted by the flooding of miles of rails, was returning to normal. Highways in many section, however, were still inundated by the waters of streams which overflowed their banks in the heavy downpour.

GUNNERS OF B.C. SECOND IN CONTEST

Ottawa, Nov. 8.—High honors for efficiency were won by the Sixth (Quebec and Lewis) Coast Brigade, Canadian Artillery, in the competitions held during last summer by the Canadian Artillery Association at Halifax and Victoria. It was announced yesterday.

All the coast defence batteries of the Canadian Artillery took part in the competition and the Sixth Brigade, under command of Lieut.-Col. R. P. Landry, won the trophies for general efficiency.

The Hugh Black Cup awarded for second place for gun practice has been won by the 55th Heavy Battery of British Columbia and the second place for competition in marksmanship was awarded to the 59th Battery of Quebec.

SOCIALIZATION IN MINNESOTA

Farmer-Labor Party, Successful in Election, Proposes State Ownership

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 8.—An anti-capitalist programme was won and won to the Farmer-Labor Party by Minnesota's electorate, which apparently elevated to state office all save two of that party's candidates in Tuesday's election.

Governor Floyd B. Olson, renamed for his third consecutive term, carried much of the ticket to victory, which he viewed to-day as a mandate for carrying out his party's platform of public ownership.

The governor said the Republican Party "made the Farmer-Labor Party's platform a challenge, which he accepted." Mr. Olson was re-elected over Martin A. Nelson, Republican, and John E. Negan, Democrat.

The Farmer-Labor party, Mr. Olson asserted, would ask the state Legislature when it meets in January to carry out its sixteen-point platform. Among other things, the platform asks public ownership of factories, packing plants, banks, transportation, communications, mines and water power.

The Legislature would be asked to submit referenda to the voters.

YOUTH DIES OF BULLET WOUND

Nanaimo, Nov. 8.—Coroner Hickling left this morning to inquire into the death of George Dove, twenty-one-year-old Nanaimo youth, who died as the result of a 22-calibre bullet wound in the head. Dove was found by a neighbor in a shack at Dashedwood. Dr. Anderson and the police were notified, but Dove died before the ambulance arrived. The body is resting at Jenkins parlors pending the coroner's instructions. Death was believed accidental.

U.S. New Deal Changes Are Expected

Republicans 133 years ago to-day, had luncheon with Senator "Young Bull" La Follette, who won on the Progressive ticket in Wisconsin, while his brother Philip was capturing the governorship.

No one knew what the two friends, Roosevelt and La Follette, talked about, but some speculated it might have been the relief problem.

LATEST RETURNS

The newest addition to the Democratic senatorial certainties to-day was A. H. H. New Mexico incumbent, who won out over Richard C. Dillon, his Republican opponent.

The other New Mexico contest was still unsettled, with Senator Cutler, Republican Independent, leading his Democratic challenger, Dennis Chavez, by a few hundred votes.

Latest figures on the Congressional line-up were:

Senate: Democrats 69, Republicans 24, Farmer-Labor 1, Progressive 1, missing 1.

House: Democrats 320, Republicans 102, Progressives 7, Farmer-Labor 3, missing 5.

The latest Democratic victory in the House was David J. Lewis, incumbent from the Sixth Maryland District. A New Deal supporter, he was the House sponsor of much social legislation, including the Wagner-Lewis unemployment insurance bill of the last session.

GOVERNORS ELECTED

The outcome of the state gubernatorial contests was complete, with the Democrats holding thirty-eight, Republicans, eight; Progressives, one, and Farmer-Labor, one.

Among the state governors elected, according to late returns are:

Iowa—Clyde Herring, Democrat.

Nebraska—R. L. Cochran, Democrat.

New Mexico—C. Tingley, Democrat.

North Dakota—T. H. Moodie, Democrat.

Ohio—M. L. Davey, Democrat.

Oregon—C. L. Martin, Democrat.

Pennsylvania—G. H. Earle, Democrat.

South Dakota—R. Berry, Democrat.

Nevada—R. Kirkman Sr., Democrat.

Republicans drew some consolation from the defeat of Maryland's Democratic governor, Albert C. Ritchie, by Harry W. Rice, after a see-saw fight.

Ritchie was not extremely warm in his reception of the New Deal, but local issues played a large part in the campaign.

PARIS POLICE BREAK
Up Street Mob As Cabinet Changes

Louis Germain-Martin announced to-night he would remain as Minister of Finance in the new Flaminio government.

TARDIEU OUT

Andre Tardieu, right wing leader in the Doumergue government, announced to-night he would not support the cabinet being formed by Pierre Etienne Flaminio, declaring he remained "at the side of Gaston Doumergue."

PUBLIC WATCHES

Reports said every effort was being made to save the structure of the Doumergue government in order to defend the political truce established to end the Parisian-born rioting in February and parry a threat of civil war.

The French public, fearful of a repetition of the rioting, brought the Doumergue government into being, watched the rapid succession of events nervously. Mounted police kept the crowds outside the Elysee Palace, where the cabinet met, moving constantly to prevent any demonstration.

Premier Doumergue was forced out for every effort he had made to save his "true" government when Radical-Socialist members resigned, withdrawing the support of the most powerful political group in France.

They informed him they could not support his demand for immediate passing of a bill providing three months' credit, which he asked to pave the way for his constitutional reforms and possible dissolution of the Chamber.

The bill was to have been followed by the calling of the National Assembly (both houses meeting together at Versailles) and revision of the constitution along lines the Radical-Socialists and other groups bluntly refused to consider.

PARIS TENSE

Paris was tense, with both Rightists and Leftists ready for action if February's bloody street riots should be renewed.

Calm but grim, the seventy-year-old Doumergue read the Radical-Socialist letter of resignation at a cabinet meeting presided over by President Lebrun. He said he intended to tell the country why he was obliged to leave his post—which is to say, why broke the left brought the new ministry would be pledged to a "political truce."

Edouard Herriot, vice-premier in the Doumergue cabinet and head of the Radical-Socialist Party, explained at the session why he could not ap-

Gray Hair

Best Remedy is Made At Home

You can now make at home a better gray hair remedy than you can buy by following this simple recipe: To half pint of water add one ounce of bay rum, a small box of Oriz Compound and one-fourth ounce of glycerine. Any druggist can put this up or you can mix it yourself at very little cost. Apply to the hair twice a week until the desired shade is obtained. Oriz imparts color to streaked, faded or gray hair, making it soft and glossy. It will not color the scalp, is not sticky or greasy and does not rub off.

prove M. Doumergue's plan to give the President and premier increased power to dissolve the Chamber of Deputies.

PRESENT RESIGNATIONS

He presented the resignations of himself and those of three Radical-Socialist colleagues. A fifth Radical-Socialist minister, Lucien Lamoureux, was ill and did not attend the session.

Paul Marchandeau, Minister of the Interior and a sixth member of the Radical-Socialist group, gave his resignation separately because he wished to declare loyalty to Doumergue.

Four Radical-Socialists then left the meeting and the shattered cabinet proceeded with the resignations.

Wearing a silk hat, M. Doumergue left the palace after embracing President Lebrun. He entered an automobile and was driven past a crowd of thousands who cheered him.

During the brief meeting M. Herriot, in his resignation, reproached M. Doumergue for "taking directly to the people by radio 'serious political reforms of which members of the government were unaware.'"

DISILLUSIONS

The crisis left the venerable statesman disillusioned and disheartened. He immediately issued a brief appeal to the people in an effort to preserve the peace of the country.

"I have been forced to abandon power," it read, "I beg all my fellow citizens, on behalf of the interest and securities of the nation, to maintain the calm necessary to the settlement of the present difficulties."

M. Doumergue quit nine months to the day after taking office because he felt that without Herriot and his followers he would be accused of being a dictator and his government would no longer represent a parliamentary majority.

Pierre Etienne Flaminio, the forty-five-year-old politician who to-day agreed to become Premier of France, is an aviator, a financial expert, a diplomat and a Conservative. He is a member of the left Republican Party, which holds a position at the centre in French politics.

Recently he headed the French delegation to the Cartier celebrations in Canada as the government's representative. At that time he was serving in the Doumergue government as Minister of Public Works.

His command of the English language is regarded as one of the reasons for his rise to power. Before serving in the Doumergue cabinet, he was Minister of Finance three separate times and three times was Minister of Commerce.

Frequently he has done the talking when negotiations have been carried on between France and Great Britain or the United States.

PILOTS PLANES

M. Flaminio is an expert in aviation. He was mobilized during the Great War in the aviation service and piloted his own machine to this day. He has been a member of many important aviation commissions.

A lawyer by profession, he entered Parliament at the age of twenty-five years. He has the distinction of being among the Parisian-born politicians who have risen to cabinet positions.

France is ruled chiefly by men from the provinces. Even M. Flaminio's former seat in the Chamber of Deputies was for a district in the department of the Yonne and not from Paris. He found a group of country folk who were willing to elect him.

M. Flaminio is six feet six inches tall.

WORK PLANS
STILL ALIVE

The Department of Labor under Hon. G. S. Pearson was outstanding because of the work of the Board of Industrial Relations.

Many thousands of dollars have been added to British Columbia pay cheques through the efforts of this department, he said. Much good was expected to result from the research work of the Economic Council.

STATE HEALTH

In the Department of Education, Hon. George M. Weil was spending long hours over sociological problems such as state health insurance and superannuation. Hon. John Hart, Minister of Finance, was carrying a big load and his past experience was a great help. Hon. K. C. MacDonald, Minister of Agriculture, and Hon. A. Wells Gray, Minister of Lands, were doing invaluable work, as was Hon. F. M. Macpherson, Minister of Public Works, who was doing the best he could to salvage something from the wrecked roads of the province, a heritage from the previous administration.

Gordon S. Wilmer, M.P.P. for Vancouver Centre, declared the composition of the next House of Commons would be most important. "Unless we receive more co-operation than we have received from R. Hon. R. B. Bennett it will be difficult to pull this province out of the position it is now in," he said.

J. Pitcairn Hogg defeated J. A. Russell, who was nominated for reelection as president.

Association Claims Turner Valley Oil Leases Made Before Scale Introduced

Calgary, Nov. 8.—Imposition of a higher royalty on government oil leases in the Turner Valley field may be disputed on legal grounds, it was indicated to-day.

The Alberta government recently announced the present royalty of 5 per cent a barrel would be increased to 10 per cent January 1, 1935.

At a meeting of the Alberta Oil and Gas Association yesterday evening, Hon. Hugh W. Allen, Minister of Lands and Mines, explained the upward scaling of the royalty had been provided for in 1929 by order-in-council when the natural resources were under federal jurisdiction.

A legal challenge to the increased royalty may be based, it was explained by oil men, on the ground that most of the leases were granted between 1910 and 1913, providing an option for renewal on the same terms at the end of twenty-one years. It has been contended that a royalty provision enacted in 1920 could not override the earlier agreements.

The oil and gas association members are preparing a protest to the provincial government, and the legal questions may be dealt with when it is presented at Edmonton.

Herbert Greenfield, former Premier and later Agent-General for the province of Alberta in Great Britain, was elected president of the association.

Vancouver Man Stabbed, Beaten and Robbed at Club, Police Are Told

Canadian Press
Vancouver, Nov. 8.—Hans Hansen, stabbed, beaten and robbed of $50 in cash early to-day, is in a serious condition in a hospital, while two men believed to have attacked him are held for investigation at police headquarters.

Hansen was found lying in a pool of blood in the doorway of a downtown cafe, and when rushed to the hospital, examination disclosed he was suffering from three knife wounds on the right thigh, a dislocated shoulder and other injuries. The injured man reported he had alleged a club where a fight is slated to have taken place with two other men. A short time later police picked up two men in a rooming-house. Club attendants were reported to have separated the three men and forced them outside. It is believed the fight was continued outside.

ITALO-HUNGARIAN PACT EXTENDED

Associated Press
Rome, Nov. 8.—The best way to keep the Danubian peace is to keep the Danubian stomach full, Premier Benito Mussolini of Italy and József Károlyi of Hungary decided yesterday.

Seven months' trial of the tripartite economic accord linking Italy, Hungary and Austria had been successful, the two premiers agreed after two days of conferences here, and Italy and Hungary would continue close economic and political collaboration with Austria.

An official communique issued here yesterday evening disclosed that the leaders' satisfaction with the Rome pact, signed in March, and denied, in effect, recent reports that rifts have appeared in the Italo-Austro-Hungarian front.

Premier Mussolini and Premier Károlyi "found ample proof that the policies of their governments were unchanged and in perfect accord, and their purpose is to continue to develop their collaboration with Austria," the communique said.

Merchants Plan Big Association

B.C. Retailers Asked to Join Dominion Body to Benefit From Federal Inquiry

Canadian Press
Vancouver, Nov. 8.—Retail merchants from many parts of the British Columbia interior will attend a meeting here on November 12 to consider joining a new national retail trade association, formation of which has begun in Toronto.

The chief purpose of the new association will be to co-ordinate the efforts of all major retail organizations of the Dominion, especially in such matters as the investigation of the Mass Buying and Price Spreads Commission. George R. Matthews, provincial secretary of the Retail Merchants' Association, declared.

The B.C. Board of the R.M.A. has endorsed the proposal, and is strongly recommending participation, according to Mr. Matthews.

HOUSING SURVEY IN CANADA SOON

Toronto, Nov. 8.—The National Construction Council of Canada has decided to appoint a committee under the chairmanship of W. L. Somerville, Toronto architect, to survey housing needs throughout Canada, according to George Oakley, chairman of the council.

Mr. Oakley said the work of the survey would be directed largely toward clearance of slum areas and provision of low-cost accommodation for persons living in such areas.

His announcement followed Monday's presentation of the report of the Toronto Housing Commission recommending slum clearance it estimated would cost $12,000,000 in this city alone, and urging Dominion Government co-operation.

Explorers Given Gangsters' Guns

Associated Press
Boston, Nov. 8.—Boston police have found some other means of disposing of guns confiscated from gangsters than dumping them in the harbor. They will donate some of them to a Harvard University expedition to India.

The expedition, scheduled to leave next spring, plans to camp 20,000 feet up in the Himalayan Mountains, to determine the effects of existence at high altitudes on the human body.

LOSES FIGHT FOR LIFE

San Francisco, Nov. 8 (Associated Press).—Herbert Bernthal's five-month battle for life in a respirator ended in death. Bernthal, twenty-two-year-old bank employee, was placed in the respirator after infantile paralysis had stopped his normal lung action. He died yesterday.

INTIMIDATION CHARGE FAILS

Canadian Press
Burnaby, B.C., Nov. 8.—Charles Lawrence Smith, charged with using intimidation to prevent Joseph Kater from carrying out his contract with Burnaby municipality in cleaning out a ditch on Deer Lake Road, was acquitted yesterday by Magistrate David Gillies.

The court room was filled with unemployed, who paraded there carrying banners bearing various slogans, including "Work and Wages" and "We Demand Release of Charles L. Smith."

URGE WESTERN CENTRAL BANK

Canadian Press
Edmonton, Nov. 8.—Formation of a Central Bank for the four western provinces was advocated in a resolution passed at an economic conference of Edmonton Liberals here yesterday.

Hon. Duncan Marshall, Minister of Agriculture for Ontario, and W. R. Howson, M.P.P., Alberta, Liberal leader, addressed the conference.

Britain's Manchukuo Policy Is Unchanged

Canadian Press and Associated Press
London, Nov. 8.—Sir John Simon, Foreign Minister, yesterday told the House of Commons the government's policy of opposition to the recognition of Manchukuo, the empire which Japan created in China, remained unchanged.

He also repudiated statements by members of the British industrial commission to Manchukuo which favored revival of the Anglo-Japanese alliance.

HOUSES KILL FOX IN RECTORY

Canadian Press
Lipcomb, Nov. 4.—While the cook and maid screamed in terror, hounds of the Belvoir Hunt, one of the foremost packs in England, killed a fox in the scullery of the Leadenhall rectory, near here, yesterday. The rector himself was among the hunters.

The fox had temporarily baulked the hounds by dashing into the village churchyard, scaling the surrounding wall. Five hounds leaped the wall and the fox dashed through the open back door of the rectory. The hounds followed and brought their quarry down while the frightened servants looked on.

ACTOR'S FATHER ELECTED JUDGE

Olathe, Kansas, Nov. 8 (Associated Press).—Charles (Buddy) Rogers, screen actor and orchestra leader, may now address his father as "Judge." Bert Rogers was elected probate judge of Johnson County on the Democratic ticket in the polling on Tuesday.

Investigate Unemployment

Special Commission Issues Report on Depressed Areas in Great Britain

Canadian Press
London, Nov. 8.—The "permanent" and unavoidable surplus of unemployed in Scotland should not be more than 60,000, and in South Wales 30,000, declare the reports of special commissioners who have completed an investigation for the government in the more seriously depressed areas. The reports cover Scotland, Durham and the Tyneside, Cumberland, South Wales and Monmouthshire. They recommend:

Improvement of existing industries of those areas; introduction of new industries; transfer of surplus unemployed to other parts; training of juveniles, and schemes of land settlement and afforestation.

The strategic advantages from the defence viewpoint of the West Cumberland and Cardiff areas are cited in connection with proposals for the establishment of government factories there.

Relief schemes generally are discounted as merely palliative, but the reports suggest the government be prepared to hand out subsidies to the first two years' wages of unemployed absorbed by any private firm that is prepared to create factories.

IMPROVEMENT SEEN IN YEAR

Canada's Exports to Empire and Foreign Countries Have Improved

Canadian Press
Montreal, Nov. 8.—Conditions in general throughout Canada have improved since the spring of 1933, the executive council of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association declared yesterday coincidentally with the official opening of the Produced-in-Canada Exhibition in Montreal.

Figures the council believed encouraging were presented in regard to empire trade. For the twelve months ended with September, 1934, Canadian exports to empire countries represented over one-half of total exports to all other countries. The report added: "For this twelve-month period our exports to empire countries amounted to almost $24,000,000, which was greater than our exports to empire countries in 1930, when they amounted to $21,600,000."

"Our exports to foreign countries, however, for 1930, were no less than $57,000,000, as compared with $307,000,000 for the year ending September, 1934."

GRAIN TRADE INQUIRY URGED

Canadian Press
Edmonton, Nov. 8.—Impartial inquiry and recommendation, obviously by the Board of Grain Commissioners, were required to learn if bear raids were made recently on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange by outside interests, and if regulation by the exchange against such attempts was needed, R. S. Law, president of the United Grain Growers Limited, said in a statement here yesterday.

Mr. Law said it was "obvious such matters are not to be satisfactorily settled by a series of contradictory statements issued to the press, or by representations by interested parties made directly to the government."

He declared the Board of Grain Commissioners "commands the respect and confidence of the country" and that the body could be given the status of a commission of inquiry.

Gets Six Months For Three Kisses

Canadian Press
Salt Lake City, Nov. 8.—Six months in jail for three kisses—two months pay-kiss was the sentence imposed on Ned Black, twenty-five, despite his proposal to demonstrate on the prosecutor, Garland Irvine, how innocuous they really were.

Black was charged with assault on Reva Woodhouse, twenty, yesterday. She testified he had kissed her against her will.

"She let me kiss her three times," he told Judge Daniel Harrington. "If you will allow me, your honor, I will demonstrate on the prosecutor here just how it was done."

"You won't kiss me," roared Irvine, as the bailiffs gavel banged down amidst the guffaws of spectators.

MANY CHINESE RETURN HOME

World Slump Forces Many to Leave Countries and Rejoin Relatives

Canadian Press
Shanghai, China, Nov. 8.—The continued world depression has forced 127,200 Chinese nationals who were earning their livelihood abroad to close down their businesses and return to China, according to statistics compiled by the Chinese Overseas Association. Most of the returned Chinese are natives of Fukien and Kwangtung provinces and had emigrated to the Malay States and the Dutch East Indies.

Another serious aspect of the depression is the astounding reduction in the remittances formerly sent by overseas Chinese to their families remaining in China. Prior to 1931 these remittances were estimated to amount to more than $400,000,000. In 1932 this amount had dwindled to $250,000,000, and in 1933 the amount was only about $120,000,000. Estimates for the 1934 remittances have not been compiled, but the officials of the Overseas Association are of the opinion the amount in all probability will not exceed $100,000,000.

Very Rev. L. N. Tucker Dies in London, Ont.

Canadian Press
London, Ont., Nov. 8.—Very Rev. Lewis Norman Tucker, dean of St. Paul's Anglican Cathedral here, died yesterday after a long illness. He had been forced to abandon his duties two months ago.

Dean Tucker, descendant of United Empire Loyalists, was born at Sorel, Que., eighty-two years ago. He was one of the most widely-known clergymen in Canada and was one of the founders of Social Service of Canada.

Other deaths reported in Canadian Press dispatches yesterday and today were:

Indian Head, Sask.—O. J. Godfrey, past president of the Canadian Chartered Accountants' Association.

St. Andrew's, N.B.—W. F. Kennedy, fifty-six, serving his seventh term as Mayor of St. Andrews.

Toronto.—Robert Johnson Cluff, sixty, for many years a prominent figure in Toronto's industrial life.

Hon. J. A. Macdonald Will Not Run Again

Charlottetown, P.E.I., Nov. 8.—Hon. John A. Macdonald, minister without portfolio in the Bennett Government, yesterday told the annual meeting of the King's County Conservative Association he would not seek re-election.

"Pressure of business duties" was given as his reason for wishing to retire from public life.

Mr. Macdonald has represented King's in the House of Commons since 1925. He is a native of Tracadie, P.E.I.

Laurier's Course Studied By Writer

L. Garvin, in "Life of Chamberlain," Deals With South African War

By THOMAS T. CHAMPION
Canadian Press Staff Writer
London, November 8.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier would personally have liked to keep Canada out of the first phase at least of the South African War, states J. L. Garvin, in the third volume of his "Life of Joseph Chamberlain," published to-day by Macmillan.

Mr. Garvin, veteran editor of The Observer, and a foremost English publicist, in interesting commentaries on the great French-Canadian Prime Minister of Canada from 1896 to 1911, declares, however, that he finds no grounds for the "legend" that the hand of Sir Wilfrid was forced by the imperial authorities, rather than by the wish of the English-speaking majority in Canada.

"Tension between the two races in Canada was certain should the South African question become acute," writes Garvin. "Quebec would be negative; Ontario, insistent. The premier was gracious, subtle; more sincere than his eloquent flexibility sometimes implied. His compromises with imperialism were intellectual efforts made against his heart."

"Feeling himself a link between the two races, whom he wished to draw closer together, he was well qualified and disposed when the predominant interest of the Dominion prompted to grasp and apply British views contrary to his own inclination."

NO INTEREST AT STAKE
"But his inmost thought was that Canada, having no effective voice in imperial councils beforehand, must not necessarily go to war whenever Britain went to war."

"For himself, could he have had his way, he would have stood out of the first phase of hostilities. No interest of Canada, strategic or commercial, seemed at stake. In the end Laurier's hand was forced by the English-speaking majority, by its pressing sympathies with a Mother Country in arms, and with the general idea of closer imperial union preached by Chamberlain."

"Needless to say his true and deep conviction in that cause was whetted by the opposition's appetite, according to usage everywhere of all parties in turn under the democratic system."

DUNCAN COUNCIL MET ON TUESDAY

Duncan, Nov. 8.—Duncan city council met Tuesday evening, with Mayor Prevost in the chair. Alderman Macmillan was welcomed back after recovering from his recent accident.

The U.P.C.M. resolution of protest against the action of Premier Patullo in refusing an interview was endorsed by the council.

An unsolicited testimonial to the efficiency of Corporal Johnson, recently transferred to Duncan, was received by the council.

Permalum was granted to the Cowichan branch of the Legion to hold their usual sale of poppies on Saturday, November 10.

The B.C. Electric Railway Company advised the council that the route of their power lines would be outside Duncan, except where it crosses Canada Avenue to the power house.

Reports were received from the streets committee and the finance committee, and the usual accounts passed for payment.

The date for the revision of the assessment roll was fixed for February, 1935, and for court of revision of the voters' list December 10, 1934.

A grant of $20 was made to the Columbian Boys' Club on account of repairs to the roof of the old school building on Station Street.

APPEAL IS TO BE ADJOURNED
First Democrat In Ninety Years

Canadian Press
Edmonton, Nov. 8.—Adjournment until December, with a change of venue to Calgary, of the appeal of Vivian Macmillan and her father, A. D. Macmillan, against the judgment of Mr. Justice C. W. Ives in disallowing the jury verdict for $15,000 damages against J. E. Brownlee, former Premier of Alberta, was believed possible to-day.

Nell D. Maclean, counsel for the Macmillans, is ill in a hospital in Toronto and it is believed the application for adjournment will be made Saturday. The appeal was scheduled to be heard next week, but will probably now go over to the Appeal Court sittings opening December 10.

MEN WHO PROLONG LIFE

OUR IDEAS ABOUT FAME ARE peculiar. Let a man start and win a great war, bringing death and suffering to thousands upon thousands of people and leaving the world with infinitely more misery than he had when he came on the scene, and we will write his name large in headlines and history books—as with Napoleon or Bismarck.

But the man who actually leaves the world a happier place than he found it—the man who makes it possible for people to live longer, who reduces the sum total of pain and despair—is very apt to wind up with a brief little footnote so that only the specialists remember his name.

You can name the great generals of the World War easily, for instance: Hindenburg, Haig, Pershing, Foch, Ludendorff and half a dozen more. But can you tell what is the claim to fame of these three physicians—Doctors George Minot, William P. Murphy, and George H. Whipple?

Their names have been in the papers just recently. They have received, jointly, the Nobel prize in medicine for 1934, as a result of their working in combating anemia.

Because of what these three men did, a great many people are alive and well to-day, who would otherwise be in their graves. If we were sensible in our measures of human greatness, should not we write their names above those of the generals and the statesmen?

These three doctors were the ones who discovered that the use of liver, or liver extract, will cure pernicious anemia. Heretofore that disease had been invariably fatal.

Once the diagnosis was made, the most skilled physician could do little but stand by and watch the malady progress to its tragic conclusion. The diagnosis was a death sentence.

Now it is not. The physician has a remedy, cheap and efficient. Pernicious anemia, at one stroke, has passed from the class of incurable diseases into the list marked "curable."

And the thing to remember is that this is a boon which the human race can enjoy for all time to come. It is a permanent addition to human knowledge.

Death's boundaries have been pushed back, a little, forever. As long as civilization endures, there will be more happiness and less misery because of what these three men have done.

You might take the trouble to remember their names—Doctors Minot, Murphy, and Whipple. They surely deserve a fame equal to that of war leaders.

A PATHETIC CASE

ALBERT EDWARD HORTON, UNEMPLOYED, of Kamloops, broke five large plate-glass windows of a large department store in that city the other morning to draw public attention to his financial plight. As soon as he had done his job he went to the police station and told the officer in charge all about it. The windows were insured and have now been replaced; the cost was approximately $600.

The story of Horton is a pathetic one. Formerly a carpenter, he has been unemployed for more than a year—and he has a wife and seven children. Thirty dollars a month has been the amount of his total relief allowance, but of this ten dollars a month has been held back for rent. This means that nine people have been trying to live on twenty dollars a month. It appears that Horton has several times complained to the relief officer, telling him that his allowance was "inadequate." Inadequate would seem to be a very inadequate term to explain his affairs. For when he gave himself up to the police he told the officer in charge that his children were sleeping on the floor, that there was no bedding for them and not enough to eat, that "something must be done for them or I'll resort to violence."

Unemployment in Canada still is the country's gravest problem. Cases such as this of the Hortons in Kamloops probably are common throughout the Dominion. It surely is high time to ask when the government at Ottawa will deal with it on a practical basis. More than four years ago, when there were less than 200,000 idle workers, the government of Mr. Bennett could have appointed a national impartial commission to investigate conditions and prescribe for them. On three occasions Mr. Mackenzie King has urged this course of action. The advice has been ignored.

The man who asked the electors of Canada in the summer of 1930 to elect him on the strength of his promise to end unemployment or "perish in the attempt" has seen unemployment treble itself and yet he remains in office, obviously knowing well that the administration of which he is the head is thoroughly discredited.

HUMAN OSTRICHES

REPUBLICAN LEADERS ATTRIBUTE the unprecedented victory of the Democrats in Tuesday's elections to the large public works expenditures planned by the Washington administration. But this explanation touches merely the fringe of the actual phenomenon. It is very significant that the Republican candidates in what were regarded as safe Republican states who opposed the New Deal most bitterly were mowed under against Democratic candidates of infinitely less ability and standing in the eyes of the public. For example, Reed, of Pennsylvania, the most aggressive of the President's critics, was beaten by a mediocre opponent, while Robinson of Indiana, another irreconcilable opponent of the New Deal, also was knocked out.

On the other hand, Republican candidates in some states who professed a general support for the Roosevelt policies were elected. It is obvious, also, that the series of articles by former President Hoover criticizing the administration in that staunch Republican publication, The Saturday Evening Post, had not the slightest effect upon the election. If it did anything at all in that direction it probably drove more voters into the Democrat ranks. The only conclusion which can be drawn from the result is that the people of the United States want Roosevelt's policies because they believe them to be in their own best interests—and they ought to know what they want.

It is evident that the stand-pat Republican leaders are as ostrich-like in defeat as they were when they were in office with the financial and economic structure of the republic crumbling all around them. They simply can not get it into their heads that there is such a thing as a New Deal which can succeed in the place of their Old Deal which failed. They can not see that the New Deal is merely sagacious, firm and courageous leadership which is trying to find the key to the restoration of prosperity and which when one plan fails rejects it and takes up another instead of folding arms and doing nothing.

BETTER BUSINESS

MONTH BY MONTH CANADA'S trade is increasing. It will have to increase a great deal, of course, before it reaches either the value or volume which it had reached in 1929 and 1930. But it is interesting to note that while the total import and export value of our trade a little more than a year ago was approximately $865,000,000, for the twelve months ending August of this year the turnover was $1,124,400,000.

Another point of interest and encouragement is that while the trade of the Dominion for the twelve months ending last July was $1,109,100,000, at the end of August it had increased to $1,124,400,000, or a gain of $15,300,000.

These trade figures suggest that conditions in Canada are improving—that the Dominion is gradually getting back to a better economic state. It is to be hoped, by the way, that the Ottawa government and the Washington government will get together and arrange a new business deal which will be beneficial to both countries.

MORE MONEY FOR WAR

WITH THE SINGLE EXCEPTION OF Germany, every major power in the world is spending more money to-day for arms and armies than it was spending just before the World War broke out. And the armament race that preceded 1914 is given a large share of the blame for the coming of that conflict.

This summary is made by the United States Foreign Policy Association. Rising in military expenditures run like this: France, 25.8 per cent; Italy, 26.3 per cent; Great Britain, 48.8 per cent; United States, 190.9 per cent, and Japan, 388 per cent.

Germany's expenditures, incidentally, are below the pre-war mark solely because of the Versailles treaty restrictions.

All in all, this makes a dismal outlook.

WILL WORLD TRADE BENEFIT?

ONE IMPORTANT ASPECT OF THE Congressional election across the border has not been overlooked in many outside capitals, and that is its possible effect upon world trade. It is public knowledge, of course, that this essential of economic recovery has been receiving considerable attention in administration quarters, and that a series of commercial treaties with other countries has been in contemplation, awaiting no doubt the result of the election.

It is also evident from the speech delivered by Mr. Cordell Hull, U.S. Secretary of State, the other day that the underlying purpose of these negotiations will be the removal of the tariff barriers which have been strangling commerce everywhere. In the light of the outcome of the election, therefore, the speech of the Secretary of State is charged with unusual significance. President Roosevelt can feel he has an unreserved mandate to proceed with this sort of trade policy which would be welcomed by the outside world, since it would give access on a reciprocal basis to the richest market on earth.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

PRECARIOUS ISOLATION
The Albany Knickerbocker Press

Americans have been comforting themselves with the reflection that if war broke out anywhere on the globe to-day we have learned how to keep out of it and not burn our fingers again. In theory that is an excellent frame of mind. In practice it is just remotely possible.

TOO GOOD OR US
The Ottawa Journal

The way of a dog with his master is beyond understanding. The more one puzzles over it the more one is satisfied that human beings are much better than they are said to be—otherwise dogs wouldn't live for them and die for them. Taken at the value his dog puts upon him, any man is a demi-god—though his world holds him a flop and a failure.

COSMOPOLITAN INDEED
The Hongkong Press

The Rotary Club of Hongkong is perhaps in some ways slightly different to its sister organizations in other parts of the world. The colony containing as it does a number of people of different nationalities, it is essential that the Rotary Club's membership should consist of representatives, not only of every trade and profession, but also of every nationality. Quite a number of countries are accordingly represented and it is interesting to read that members have been asked to present the flags of their countries to the club, so as to engender a true spirit of internationalism amongst local Rotarians. So far, the flags of Great Britain, China, United States, Italy, France and Portugal have been presented to the club, and before very long it is possible that the club will have a very fine display of its own small way Rotary in Hongkong is speeding up the work of promoting international concord amongst a distinctly cosmopolitan community.

Shame is a feeling of profanation.—Jeremiah.

Loose Ends

The witch doctors of Nova Scotia are not on the trail of Adam and Eve—the perfect ant hill is discovered close at hand—and our women go in for mysticism.

By H. B. W.

WITCHCRAFT

IN NOVA SCOTIA, as you read in the paper the other night, the peasantry are aroused to a high pitch of fury because their children are not being taught in a new history book to believe in Adam and Eve. This dangerous book apparently ignores Adam and Eve altogether and traces the human story back to the original slime from which, according to the evolutionists, man has come.

That shows you how much more broad-minded we are out in this sunny western clime than the withered natives of Nova Scotia. Out here they were teaching the evolutionary theory even when I went to school, which is nearly a century ago now, and no one seemed in the least excited. I doubt that poor Adam and Eve were ever mentioned during my whole period of schooling, except in ribald jest.

The school authorities of Nova Scotia, alas, are wasting their time. The young, even in Nova Scotia, will go on believing what they like, and I'm pretty sure that won't include Adam and Eve. If the school authorities of Nova Scotia and of British Columbia had the remotest idea what the young were thinking, how they were disbelieving nearly everything we told them, they would probably turn over in their intellectual graves.

Believe in the garden of Eden? Why many of these dangerous offspring of ours don't even believe in our economic system. Faith in Adam and Eve? Why, most of them have even lost faith in Premier Bennett. Indeed, I question that anything, even the witch doctors of Nova Scotia, can save Adam and Eve and Mr. Bennett among the coming generation. And I have an idea that the young will do some disagreeable things to our economic system, too.

ANTS

PROFESSOR WILLIAM MORTON WHEELER of Harvard has burst forth in The Scientific Monthly with a profound philosophical essay on ants, which seems to have a particular application to Victoria. The professor shows that ants have made much better economic arrangements for themselves than the human animal has been able to do and he attributes their success largely to the subjection of the male.

Men, says the professor, are restless aggressive and criminal and the ants as well as other insects have learned how to deal with him. In these more intelligent strata of life males are reduced to futility and the female reigns supreme and everybody is happy. No well-disciplined, self-governing colony of ants or bees would tolerate the conduct of the human male for a moment, for he is always killing because he likes to hunt, fighting with other males for a mate, or struggling for some selfish object. It seems that our civilization is going to be torn to shreds unless something can be done about the male who follows like you, who are always killing, fighting and struggling.

I fear that the professor has been watching life in the wrong places. In the larger, more frenzied cities of men. If he would come out here, his faith in mankind would be restored. For here, it seems to me, right here in Victoria, we have achieved the perfect human ant hill. There is no killing, no fighting, no struggling. The male has been subdued. Look out on the streets of Victoria from the windows of this newspaper office, for example, and you will see what I mean. Precisely at five minutes to nine every morning the ants come crawling to work and disappear into their hill. At noon they crawl out, look around for a little while, crawl back again, and in the evening they crawl home, read the paper and go to bed.

This goes on endlessly, without the slightest variation, as it has gone on for close to a century, as it will probably go on for centuries and centuries more. The average male in this community crawls thus through life precisely like an ant, except that he crawls on two feet instead of six, without any more notion than the ant of what it is all about. The trouble with society, contrary to the dull views of the professor, is not that we are unlike the ant, but we are too like him. The male has been subdued as effectively in our society as in any ant hill in the world. I am inclined to think, on the whole, that the average male in Victoria is intolerably drab and dull and monotonous.

MYSTERIES

THIS PROBABLY EXPLAIN the phenomenon which has lately been forced upon my serious consideration. I refer to the sudden epidemic of fortune telling, astrology and second sight which has engulfed this community. My young female friends tell me that everywhere you go now for tea there is a fortune teller. Apparently it is hardly any use operating a tea shop in Victoria unless you have a fortune teller attached, for one one will go to drink the same morsels. Our women must have the excitement of a fortune teller as well.

I had known that Vancouver already was in the grip of mysticism. Prophets of every sort operate over in that godless city in swarms, and half the population consults them secretly, under the protection of night, on every kind of problem from love to mining stocks. But I had hardly expected that Victoria would fall for it.

Such manifestations, to anyone grounded in history, are always alarming signs of decadence. For example, when Rome was in the last stages of decay, when its economic system had broken down, when its government was in collapse, when its culture had died, suddenly the whole population went in for mysticism. Every conceivable kind of "mystery," as they called such things in those days, swept out of the Orient and engulfed the poor, simple minds of the Romans, until they became the easy prey of the crude barbarians from the north.

Something like that, on a minor scale, is probably happening right now, no more understood than it was in Rome. Our women, disillusioned by the mess that we have made of the world, reduced to the status of ants in a gigantic hill, turn to teacup readers, palmists and astrologers in the hope of acquiring a spark of romance in their lives.

And don't imagine for a moment that the women disbelieve what is told them in their teacups, palms and horoscopes. Of course they believe it. Otherwise they would not go back again and again and spend your good money to drink tea and learn their destinies (as if any of them had any).

My information from my young female friends is that half the female population of Victoria is going about the streets these days in a kind of daze, having learned its destiny from some gifted magician in a tea shop who invariably seems able to discover that the destiny will be exciting. (One fellow, I understand, advises most of his clients that they will acquire another husband before long and this happy system has made him the most popular magician in town).

WILD WHIMISIES

YES, IT IS MARVELOUS to think, in a cold-blooded age, when no one is supposed to believe anything, that our women, for all their modern clothes, permanent waves, automobiles and cosmetics, are really sisters under the skin of the native Indian women who sell baskets and claim I rather fancy, in fact, that the Indian women are less superstitious, that it would take more than an astrologer and a cup of tea to convince them that they would shortly acquire new husbands.

Never mind, if it makes you women happy, we should rejoice that woman has had a new birth in this community. And don't think, O foolish husband, that friend wife is any more credulous than you are. Her revelations in teacups are far less fantastic than most of your notions of politics. Compared with your economic views her astrology is probably enlightened and reliable. The theories, prophecies and explanations that you accept with unquestioning faith from the masters of our society are whistles of the wildest, jolliest, maddest sort compared with her 8 o'clock horoscopes.

THE RHYMING OPTIMIST

By ALINE MICHAELS

UNKNOWN ROMAN

Two thousand years and more have passed since this man dived in Rome, and vast still in his bust the look unkind. The cunning brow, the cruel chin, the mouth hard line lips and thin. Whereby the sculptor traced so well in fluting words, he dared not tell in marble what he had not told in life. It is incredibly set. To show how nature loves to mark ignoble spirits with her dark designs that all may read her warning of disaster every deed. No bulky volume could impart more than we learn here of his heart.

Twenty-five Years Ago To-day

THE VICTORIA DAILY TIMES

November 8, 1909

(From The Times Files)

Respect for British law has been forced upon the Indians of the Klapoos, according to dispatches received here. Six of the ringleaders of the Indian village who took part in setting camp outfits of a road party in the vicinity are in custody having been taken from their homes on Saturday. They will likely come up for trial to-day at Hazelton and will be properly punished.

Hon. Edgar Desjardins, accompanied by his bride, has returned from England and is registered at the Driford. While waiting in a doorway for a blast to go off J. W. Williams, Michigan Street, rock contractor, met with a serious accident. When the gang came back they found him lying unconscious on the floor. A doctor was summoned and it was found a rock had struck him in the head and an arm was broken.

After beating up the straits against the strong gale which was blowing on Saturday night, the sailing schooner Versa dropped her anchor early Sunday morning at the entrance to the harbor, with a cargo of 812 skins, which are being packed and sent to London.

In order to keep pace with the requirements of the city another loan to enable the council to proceed with the extension of the sewerage system will have to be arranged at a very early date.

MRS. McLAURIN'S THANKS

To the Editor:—Some time ago I was urgently requested by the executive and citizenship committees of the Local Council of Women to allow my name to be presented as their nominee for school trustee at the forthcoming election. After careful consideration I finally consented. Representatives of the affiliated societies of the Local Council of Women present at the recent November meeting expressed hearty and unanimous endorsement of my candidature. Will you allow me through the courtesy of your columns to convey to each member of these societies my sincere thanks for the honor thus accorded?

N. EVELYN MacLAURIN.

NO PARTY POLITICS

To the Editor:—In reading the announcement of my candidature for the aldermanic board in to-day's Colonist and written by one of the best-intentioned reporters I fear many might be confused as to whether I am by introducing party politics or not. May I here emphatically state party politics do not enter civic elections.

To all voters in this forthcoming election, I promise if you elect me as alderman on December 13 (lucky day) you can depend upon my giving non-partisan consideration in trying to solve your civic problems, doing so without favor or prejudice, irrespective of what politics you might be in either provincial or federal parties.

Armistice Social Planned—Under the auspices of St. Mark's W.A. an Armistice social will be held in the Parish Hall on Monday evening, November 12, at 8 o'clock. Old-time dancing and amusements are being arranged, and a blind auction will be held of the gifts received.

TEN CENTS A WEEK
is that a big price to be SURE of your Hair?

A simple way to keep your hair as you've arranged it—without using any sticky dressing

That's all it costs—a dime a week at the most—to be sure of your hair every day, and all day long. To know it's clean, and looks clean. To know it will stay as you arranged it. And to know no dandruff will lift to the surface.

That's what moistening your comb with a few drops of Danderine will do. And no amount of dry-combing will ever do. Nearly all hair needs the help that Danderine gives it. A dash of Danderine morning and night makes an amazing difference in the way any hair looks all the time! And the smallest size bottle will last over a month.

After you have washed your hair, a little Danderine will keep it from going better-sketter. When you pay a dollar for a wave, Danderine will help you keep it. It isn't a sticky dressing, or an oily tonic, and it doesn't leave any telltale odor. Its fresh fragrance is gone quickly after it's applied—but not that marvelous effect of freshness and cleanliness!

It's a pity not to know this little secret that means so much in the way any hair will look. It's no trouble. Yet you can hardly believe anything so mild and pleasant as Danderine could bring such a change in the condition and appearance of your hair and scalp. Just try it. You can buy Danderine at any drugstore for thirty-five cents; larger sizes 90c and $1.00.

DENIES SHE IS LEG-PULLING

Gertrude Stein Says She Writes as She Thinks; Writings Unintelligible

Associated Press
Chicago, Nov. 8.—Gertrude Stein can describe something—a sunset, for example—so almost anybody can understand.

The modernistic author, credited with such lines as "Let Lily Lucy Lily," spoke of the beauty of the sunset she saw at she flew into Chicago. She came here for her first attendance at a performance of her opera, "Four Saints in Three Acts."

"Tell us, please," asked a questioner, "why you don't write so a person can understand—write like you speak?"

"But I do," retorted the sixty-year-old square-set woman.

"I write like I talk. I write like everybody talks—that is everybody, except newspaper people."

Then with a chuckle she said:

"You newspaper people write like you think."

"We write like we think—" commented a scribe.

"Or," helped Gertrude Stein, "you don't think; you just write."

"That's it; we write like we think. Don't think, just write. Look here, now, you're getting us talking like you write."

"Ah, but I told you," beamed Miss Stein.

"But, Miss Stein, with that non-understandable prose, are you trying to pull the public's leg?"

"I? Pull the public's leg? What do I care about the public's leg? What do you think?"

"I don't know."

"Well, neither do I. But don't you think that, old as I am, I would have gotten tired of pulling the public's leg by now?"

CATHOLIC GIFTS TO CHARITIES

Father Roland Roberts spoke before the November meeting of the Catholic Women's League—Victoria Subdivision yesterday evening upon "The Necessity of Life," quoting from Father Martin's series of articles on "The Little Virtues," now appearing in The Canadian Messenger of the Sacred Heart. Father Roberts stressed the great necessity of co-operation in well-doing and his remarks were much appreciated. Mrs. W. McManus, president, was in the chair and thanked the speaker.

Business included donations to St. Louis College and St. Ann's Academy, and a cheque also was sent to Sunshine Inn. A committee was formed to receive and ship to the Voluntary Rural Relief of British Columbia, gifts of clothing or food, to be distributed to the needy in the drought-stricken areas of Saskatchewan. Free transportation of such having been granted by the railways, Mrs. McManus, Mrs. Baird, Mrs. Kinsinger, Mrs. Cummerford and Mrs. Dames will take charge.

Reporting for hospital visiting were Mrs. Pemberton for the Jubilee Hospital, and continuing as visitor for the coming month; Mrs. Cannon for Mrs. Rose's Home; Mrs. Roberts for St. Joseph's; Mrs. McKinnon and Mrs. Dames to act for the coming month. Mrs. Kinsinger reported for the rummage sale; Mrs. Roberts reported the success of the card party and home-cooking sale and were thanked, with their helpers, for their good services in these endeavors.

The main attention of the meeting was concentrated upon the three days bazaar to be held in the Parish Hall on December 3, 4 and 5; the various conveners of stalls reported satisfactory progress in their arrangements and everything points to a success as great, if not greater, than last year. The president spoke of the subdivision's interest in the coming of the new bishop. It was hoped that the then newly-installed bishop may open the bazaar on December 3.

ECENTRIC WRITER RETURNS

Gertrude Stein, one of the most famous and eccentric women writers of the United States, has returned to her native land for a short stay after a self-imposed exile of thirty-one years. Miss Stein, who says what she thinks and writes what she thinks, is making a lecture tour of some of the colleges to the south. She likes her country but prefers to live in Europe. Hailed as a girl genius more than forty years ago, Miss Stein has helped to bring recognition to several modern authors and artists.

GLORIA SWANSON GETS DIVORCE

Says Fourth Husband Was Abusive About American Politics

Associated Press
Los Angeles, Nov. 8.—Speaking of elections, Michael Farmer, Irish sportsman, never seemed to care much for American politics and sometimes became abusive on that subject, it was testified yesterday in the superior court hearing at which Gloria Swanson of the movies divorced him.

Somewhat nervous and timid on the stand, Miss Swanson said Farmer, her fourth husband, was excessively quarrelsome and apparently delighted in humiliating her before friends.

Lois Wilson, movie actress friend of Miss Swanson, testified that Farmer was particularly inclined to be abusive at the mention of American politics.

Miss Swanson was awarded custody of her two-year-old daughter, Michelle Farmer. She said Farmer had agreed to pay for the child's support, but she understood he was $1,000 behind in payment of the baby's nurse's wages.

Arctic Explorer At Canadian Club

Richard Funnell, F.R.G.S., well-known explorer of the Canadian Arctic, will address the Men's Canadian Club on Monday evening at a dinner meeting in the Empress Hotel. His subject will be "Canada's Last Frontier," which will be illustrated by motion pictures reported to be some of the best ever taken in the Far North. Canadian Club members have also been invited to attend the Gyro luncheon on Monday, where Sir Percy Sykes will speak on "Chinese Turkestan and the Pamirs."

FOOD EXPERTS say that modern diets lack a vital element which nourishes nerves.

This element, often called the "yeast vitamin" is found also in Quaker Oats. In fact, a dish of delicious Quaker Oats gives you more of this nerve-nourishing food than 3 cakes of fresh yeast.

Experiments show that when this vitamin is added to the diet appetites improve, nerves relax. Irritability disappears. Constipation is corrected.

Make this two weeks test—Start at once and give your family Quaker Oats regularly—and get the benefits of the yeast vitamin in a more natural, appetizing way. And remember, Quaker Oats are also irradiated with Sunshine Vitamin "D."

Your Baby and Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

BOTTLE FEEDING VERY UNDERSTANDABLE FOR CHILD FIRST YEAR

The mother of a child who at eighteen months or beyond is still clinging stubbornly to bottles, is inclined to pooh-pooh any warnings to take bottles away from him. She points out the child's willing consumption of more milk, because of the bottles, and also the child's delight in them. "I'm afraid he won't drink milk, if he can't have it by bottle, and I think the milk is more important."

Of course, this is the path of least resistance and one which clouds a mother's judgment when she doesn't relish the job of divorcing the child from his beloved bottle.

MILK NEEDN'T BE DRUNK

But the task will not be started until the mother is herself convinced of the multiple disadvantages of bottle feeding, which must overbalance this one possible advantage.

The consumption of milk, after the first year, need not necessarily be one quart a day to drink. There are all kinds of ways in which milk can be eaten instead of drunk.

There are custards made of milk, cottage cheese made of milk, vegetable flavored milk soups, cereal cooked in milk instead of water and eaten with milk, gelatin into which milk is beaten, buttermilk, and ice cream (made with custard).

RIDICULOUS IDEA

The idea that a child needs to have a bottle in order to furnish him his allotment of milk is a ridiculous one.

We offer a leaflet on "Weaning Baby from Bottle to Cup," which likewise discusses the problem of the older child. In addition, we suggest the leaflet, "Increasing the Child's Consumption of Milk," which is allied to the first. These two leaflets may be had for a stamped, self-addressed envelope, sent with a request for them to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of the "Your Baby and Mine" department of this newspaper.

DANGER OF TOO MUCH MILK

The retention of bottles after the first year almost invariably weights the diet one-sidedly with too much milk. The child prefers the bottle, so he willingly accepts all the milk he is given in that way and turns away from the more difficult and laborious task of eating.

Mothers should recognize that there is always a real danger when natural development habits are inhibited.

Cup drinking is a capacity possessed by the child at one year. Encouragement of this new skill helps the child to learn better eating habits, inspires an appetite for solid foods, and frees him from one more of those elementary habits which otherwise chain him to infancy.

The Clue of The Forgotten Murder

By CARLETON KENDRAKE

Copyright, 1934, NEA Service Inc.

Much puzzled, Bleeker followed the criminologist to a taxi cab. "Remember," he said, when the cab was away, "I was standing in the street, making speed toward the destination where the detective and the widow of the Riverview financier had been located. That I am running a newspaper, I'm a man of action. I don't go in for a lot of refined theories; I go in for action. The faster the action, the better I like it. I'm inclined to go ahead and do what I want to first and check up on the mistakes afterwards. I find that I can get to a destination quicker by moving around and doing things than I can by sitting down and waiting for things to happen. Morden was a newspaper man. He was a good one. He had a knowledge of crime and of criminals which he had obtained by first-hand observation. He was murdered. I want to prosecute those murderers. You've got the newspaper standing squarely behind you. Griff nodded thoughtfully. "I understand all that," he said, "and further, I understand that Morden was a good reporter. He knew his criminals—knew them very well, indeed."

"Not quite well enough," Bleeker said grimly.

Griff's retort was significant. "Perhaps too well," he said.

They rode for a minute or two in silence and Griff said sadly, "It will be one of my greatest regrets that in solving this case there is one thing which we shall probably never discover."

"What is that?" Bleeker inquired.

"That is whether Morden merely blundered upon the discovery which led to his death, or whether he figured it out by a process of reasoning that was at least brilliant."

"He was a not a brilliant man," Bleeker said. "He was a daring man, and he was resourceful, but he was not brilliant."

Griff closed his eyes. Slowly he shook his head from side to side.

"I am not certain," he said. "At times I feel that he must have been brilliant. It is, perhaps, something we shall never discover."

"What are you referring to?" Bleeker asked. "The location of Eberth Orway?"

"Not that," Griff said. "Do you think that he knew she was Cathay's daughter?"

"As to that, we cannot say, but I am inclined to think he did not," Griff said. "The evidence all points to the fact that he was trailing Cathay, trying to find what Cathay was doing on that Sunday night. He had no luck with the hotels or, perhaps, he simply disregarded the hotels and concentrated his search upon the garages. It is a good point, one that I shall remember."

"How," asked Bleeker, "did you know that she was Cathay's daughter?"

"I didn't know," Griff said. "I watched her lip when she spoke. I knew that she was nervous and that she was lying. I knew, also, that her lies were not the swift, extemporaneous lies of one who has been unexpectedly cornered, but that they were carefully rehearsed. They were lies which were not impregnable, but they had been given to her to use for the purpose of delaying investigation until a certain thing could be accomplished."

"And what certain thing?" asked Bleeker.

Griff shrugged his shoulders. "It may already have been accomplished," he said. "Who can tell?" "Don't you think you're all wet on that business?" Bleeker insisted. "Morden wasn't such a brainy man. He was resourceful. He thought of trying to trace Cathay through his car. He found the garage. In some way from the garage, he got lead to the apartment house and someone in the apartment house gave him the information that the young woman was merely a woman in the case, a person whose name might be linked with that of Cathay."

"He went to see her; she was out. He rode around, investigating other clues for an hour or so, and then returned. She was in. He talked with her. Kenneth Boone came in. Boone has a jealous disposition. He is hot-headed and impulsive. We know he carries a weapon. Probably he tried to throw Morden out. Morden would have taken a great deal of throwing out. There was a struggle. Boone lost his head and hit Morden over the head with the gun. That's all there was to it."

Griff did not argue the point. "Perhaps," he said in a tone that was almost dreamy, "but let's not make the mistake of reconstructing our crime until we have all of the facts. Here's 222 East Elm Street. We're going to get something here."

CHAPTER XXXI

Griff told the cab driver to wait and he and Bleeker approached the house, a house which had at one time been a pretentious private residence but was now given over to furnished rooms.

"Bleeker asked as they entered the door, 'get the landlady and inquire for Blanche Stanway.'"

"I doubt," Griff told him, "if it's necessary."

He led the way up one flight of stairs, paused to listen in the hallway.

The sound of swift, excited voices came from a room toward the rear. Griff nodded toward that room. "I think," he said, "that what we want is in there."

He walked noiselessly down the corridor, paused before a closed door. On the other side of that door a woman was talking. Her voice was audible, but not her words. Griff placed his hand on the knob, turned it noiselessly, shoved the door open.

A fleshy woman with hard, green eyes and stringy, lack-lustre hair which had been cut in a square bob was seated on a chair, a mocking smile playing about her lips.

Standing near the window, clad in black, was Mrs. Frank Cathay. Her face was white and tragic. There was a baffled look of hopeless defeat in her eyes.

Nearer the doorway, standing with his side to the door, his big shoulders squared, his face flushed with rage, was Carl Racine, the detective.

Griff's voice was cheerful. "Do we intrude?" he asked.

They stared at him. Mrs. Cathay's face showed bewilderment. Racine's face was white with cold anger. The woman who was seated in the chair shifted her hard, green eyes to regard the visitors with a curiosity which seemed almost casual.

"We want very much," Griff went on, "to interview Mrs. Blanche Stanway, or perhaps she might prefer to be called Mrs. Blanche Malone."

The smile faded from the lips of the woman.

AUSTRALIANS LIKE SERIAL

Radio in Commonwealth Follows American Rather Than British Plan

All the way across the Pacific Ocean, as far as Sydney, Australia, the fame of "One Man's Family," NBC serial of American home life, has spread.

So when John B. Dunne, manager of station 2SM, Sydney, arrived in San Francisco a few weeks ago with his pretty wife, Beanie Dunne, well known actress and radio star, their first call was at the NBC headquarters in search of Carlton E. Morse, the playwright.

"Our short-wave fans pick up the Harbour serial whenever they can," explained Dunne. "I knew it must be an immensely popular programme, but when we got on shipboard we realised just how popular it was. All the passengers from the United States were talking about it, and when we got close to San Francisco the ship's engineer said, 'Now we can hear "One Man's Family" again, and there was general rejoicing.'"

Dunne watched rehearsals of the serial and listened to the broadcast with the interest of a fellow craftsman.

"America and Australia are moving along similar paths in radio progress," he said. "I find your sound effects and production methods much more like ours than are the British. Australian audiences like American ones, have shown a liking for dramatic programmes during the last few years, the Sydney broadcaster said. One of the most popular programmes heard there at present is a strip which relates the adventures of a grocerman and a flirtatious housewife. Comedians are popular, but there are no outstanding radio jesters to compare in popularity with Wynn, Cenfor or Penner. Broadcasts of cricket matches are followed as eagerly as football broadcasts here.

Two kinds of broadcasting-stations give Australian listeners their entertainment. Government-owned stations, financed by fees on sets, present Shakespeare, standard music, market reports, and the like. "B class" stations like 2SM offer more popular fare and sell time on the air, just as do radio stations in the United States.

Uncle Wiggily and the Balloon Dog

By HOWARD R. GARIS

One day Uncle Wiggily ran his funny rabbit through the woods. He was carrying the rabbit gentleman's automobile was so funny was because it had turnips for wheels, a head of lettuce for a steering wheel and for tires big, round, fat bologna sausages.

Whenever any one asked Uncle Wiggily why he used bologna sausages for tires, the rabbit gentleman would say, "Because to make my auto go fast I sprinkle black pepper on the sausage tires. To make it go faster I sprinkle on red pepper."

And when Baby Bunty asked him why he had a head of lettuce for a steering wheel, Mr. Longears answered, "Because I get lettuce for a steering wheel. I can eat some of the lettuce."

"Oh," said Baby Bunty. "Then she hopped out to play carrot tag."

"I think I shall stop and get my fat pig friend and take him for a ride," said Uncle Wiggily as he climbed into his auto, nibbled a bit of the lettuce steering wheel and Cranked some of the bologna sausage tires. Mr. Twinstail was very glad to go for a ride. But the fat pig was so heavy that to make his auto go, Uncle Wiggily had to sprinkle a lot of red pepper on his tires.

"THIS IS FUN," grunted the gentleman pig. "I'm glad you like it," said Uncle Wiggily.

"Only riding always makes me hungry," grunted the pig.

"We'll stop at a delicatessen and get some lunch, take it with us to the woods and eat it there," said Mr. Longears. After buying some sandwiches and dill pickles at the delicatessen, Uncle Wiggily and the pig rode on until they were near the woods. Then, all of a sudden, they saw something queer.

"It looks like a lot of ladies' hats, with red, blue, green and yellow flowers on them," grunted the pig. "Hats wouldn't be bobbing along," grunted the pig. "Hail it see what it is!"

City's Unemployed Urged To Organize

Three Speakers at Chamber of Commerce Stress Need For Immediate Action to Remedy Present Situation

The call to organize was heard yesterday evening by more than 600 persons who packed the Chamber of Commerce auditorium at an unemployment meeting, held under the sponsorship of the C.C.F. Council of Unemployment.

In the course of the evening three speakers dealt with various aspects of the unemployment and relief question, and members of the audience contributed their opinions during an open forum period which carried on well after 10 o'clock.

"You numbers, if organized, can make yourselves felt," said Captain T. Guy Sheppard. "You can show that you will no longer go begging on your knees for patched cast-offs when there is plenty for all to wear, and that you will not live under upturned bath tubs when there is housing for all."

To a visitor from another planet the state of affairs in the world today, of want amidst plenty, would make this globe seem like the lunatic asylum of the universe.

Opening in a humorous vein, Captain Sheppard stated that the relief worker was a product of the last few years. The lowest caste in India were the unemployables.

"The best name I can find for the relief workers is 'The Unemployables'."

He described the relief worker as "Homo A-man-a-cus, a noddy whood which spread all over the world after 1929. It exists with not much water and propagates rapidly. Specimens found in the district of Esquimaux lived without water at all."

"There is also a lesser species, 'Hobo A-boy-a-cus, now segregated in relief camps.'"

The question of how some 1,000,000 Canadians were to be fed, clothed and sheltered did not at first appear a difficult problem. There seemed to be enough food, clothing and shelter for all. Yet the authorities said they could not feed them.

Ignored Question

"The Dominion Government has ignored the question, the province has passed it on to the municipalities, the municipalities back to the province, Clem Davies has said 'Leave it to God,' and Gerry McGeer, 'Leave it to me.'"

Hon. H. H. Stevens found that labor was being bought in the east for $3 per week. "In Vancouver," he said, "you can find girls whose bodies and souls are being bought for a quarter."

It was easy to arouse interest in the cases of needy animals. "The S.P.C.A.—not S.P.A.—looks to that. It ought to be equally easy to arouse sympathy for needy children."

Cats received medical care, he stated, then went on to ask, "Will your sick child get as much aid as a sick cat?"

"No," shouted three voices from the audience.

In Hungary the miners went on a hunger strike—the most awesome, terrible and ghastly thing in the world's history. If 1,200 miners could organize to that point, he said, surely it could not be difficult in Victoria to organize an unemployed movement that could mean something and do something.

"It is time your emotions were aroused sufficiently to turn this insanity inside-out, and have something fresh."

In Esquimaux relief workers had existed on $16.50 a month, with no allowance for dependents at all.

"That $16.50 is not only a tragedy and a blot on our reputations as Christians, but also a slur on our sanity and mentality."

"This meeting was called to try to get at last a really forceful, honest-to-goodness unemployed organization in this city."

Referring to a delegation from the Vancouver unemployed council who will visit the provincial government on December 4, Captain Sheppard expressed the hope that his audience would be there "when the door was slammed in the face of the delegation."

"We must show the mayor and aldermen," he said, "that human values are more real than realty values; that flesh and blood are more real than property."

It was said in the Bible that "Blessed are the poor, for they shall inherit the earth." So long as the mayors and aldermen and the premier, who, he was sure, all called themselves good Christian gentlemen, stood in the way of that inheritance they were not doing their duty, and should be made to get out.

"The opportunity to organize in overwhelming numbers is knocking at your door. You must co-operate without fear. You can do that, and you must do that if you wish to survive," he concluded.

YOUTH SPEAKER

D. Smith, youth speaker, doubted if the unemployment question could be taken from the point of view of youth alone. At sixteen and sixty the headline meant the same thing.

It was reassuring to find concern in high places for natural resources. But it would be more so if this concern was felt for human resources also.

Bankers would lend money on natural resources. If bankers would lend on the unemployed they, too, no doubt would be converted.

"We are wasting resources of human life and brain and ambition at an extraordinary rate," he said.

Unwanted human machinery was beginning to rust. It was on this human machinery that the natural resources really depended.

What was to happen, he asked, to a generation without experience? The University of Otter Point was going to have more effect than that of McGill. The Otter Point of Canada were undermining the body on which McGill rested.

WIPE OUT SYSTEM

"The only solution to me," he said, "is one which will wipe out the present system altogether."

It was up to taxpayers to ask Premier Bennett and Pattullo to find the way out of the problem.

"I suggest they put it up to the government to 'take an advance' on relief money and take over some of the idle factories and farms."

There were men without shoes; unemployed could make them; other unemployed could provide the raw material.

An interlocking system right through all industry could be worked out on this basis.

"The idea is so obvious that I cannot understand why Mr. Pattullo and Mr. Bennett have not seen it."

"We would soon find out whether the unemployed wanted to work or not. The unemployed do not want to be supported, but to support themselves."

The history of to-day would not look good in cold print. Experts at high salaries were working to find out how many ounces of meat the unemployed needed. The charts they compiled would go down with the thumbscrew.

If the majority of people went on sitting at home and thinking what industry and the wicked press wanted them to think, there was no hope.

"The question is, are the people going to take back what is theirs?"

NATIONAL PROBLEM

Unemployment, said W. White, was a national rather than a local problem.

An attempt to cut relief in Saanich this year had been frustrated by a united effort.

Mr. White outlined the history of relief from the time of Mr. Bennett's promise to end unemployment in six months.

The original measures were temporary, adopted for an emergency.

Now the federal and provincial governments combine in a scheme to undermine the workers throughout Canada.

The ranks of the unemployed were scattered. It was on the basis of this weakness that the governments had conspired to further degrade them.

An old Latin tag said the voice of the people was the voice of God. Many governments had tried to still that voice.

"You must close up your ranks as soon as possible; you must use your ability to organize throughout Canada to overcome the government which is conspiring to keep you in the morass of misery," he concluded.

"The people of Canada must unite in a voice a million strong to prove that the Canadian worker is not to be degraded further."

GOOD CAST IN 'COUNTRY GIRL'

Four Singers Will Be Making First Appearances in Musical Comedy Roles

A splendid cast, including some of the city's best known and most popular singers, will fill the leading roles in the forthcoming production by the Victoria Operatic Society, at the Empire Theatre on Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings, November 15, 16 and 17. Mail orders are now being received at the theatre, and the box office will open on Monday.

In the cast of principals are four singers new to such roles, while the remaining parts have been allotted to stars of former productions. These, with the large chorus, should secure music and acting of the highest standards. Chris Wade is in charge of music and orchestra, Reg. Mincks is looking after the acting and stage department, and Mrs. Dorothy Wilson is the ballet mistress.

Doreen Wilson, an attractive singer and dancer, will have the role of Nan. Margery Benson will sing the part of Madame Sophie, Alec McGowan will act Granter Mummery and Alva Wetherell will be Geoffrey Chalonar. These singers are new to Victoria Operatic Society productions. Other principals are Harry Jones, the Rajah of Bhong; James Matheson, Sir Joseph Verity; Jack Townsend, Douglas Verity; Harry Davis, Lord Anchester; Fraser Lister, Barry; Phyllis Deaville, Marjorie Joy; Thelma Johns, the Princess of Bhong; Mildred Hamlet, Lady Anchester; Doreen Daniell, Mrs. Quinton Raikes; Jack Child, Lord Gressmere.

YOUNG PIANIST PLAYED WELL

Musical Arts Audience Enjoys Helen Ockenden and Thos. Kelway, Tenor

By G. J. D.

That one of the city's young pianists has earned a position to rank as a notable addition to the number of pianist luminaries of the Pacific Coast was decisively proven when Helen Ockenden gave her debut recital at the Empress Hotel ballroom yesterday evening. Her reception was most cordial, and her numbers were marked by abundant applause and by the many bouquets of flowers handed her.

Miss Ockenden conveys the impression of great sincerity and enthusiasm for her art, as one who knows what she is about and having a high intention to do her best in its service. A scrupulous care of scholarship has increased an unusually retentive faculty—prime virtues that should set this young musician a long way toward the threshold of the broad highway of experience and individuality. One thing must be said, she should really set herself go, as it was felt that on occasions her natural musical sensibility was wrapped too closely about, such as in her Beethoven, Liszt and the Brahms Rhapsodie.

Beginning with two sonatas by Domenico Scarlatti, in which there were sweetness and grace, and the rippling passages made delightful, then played the Beethoven Sonata, Opus 27, No. 1. The linked music of the Largo, bringing forth an appealing singing tone, played with firm grasp of this infinitely beautiful music, the varying moods being set off with most commendable contrasts, long-sustained plaudits following. Debussy, represented in his exquisitely visualized "Reflets dans l'eau," was quite charmingly played, leaving one to wonder if the pianist had heard Paderewski's record discs of the Debussy Preludes.

The "Malaguena" (Lecrocia), the sensuous dance of the province of Malaga in Spain, was a delightfully novel and individualistic bit of music that could have been given with a little more expansion by the player. Novel, too, was Cowell's "Tides," in which the tidal effects were produced in the bass by the player's left hand lying over the keyboard and playing in imitation of the sounds of the waves, not new or strange in many pianistic circles. This apparently aroused curiosity and was loudly re-demanded, but the player gave instead another quaint bit of piano music, styled "The Donkey," as realistic as music can make it.

The last group especially pleased, and her Brahms made a fine impression. In this composer's "Rhapsodie in E Flat Major" (reminiscent of Godowsky), a charming melody marched along with a good swing, vigor and contrast, arie "Intermezzo," Opus 119, No. 3, cryptic music, and a flawless gem, was given in gay, merry mood, and evinced poetic values and technical ability, as did the two following numbers, Schumann's "Prophet Bird" from "Forrest Scenes," in its rare bit of musical symbolism, and the fittingly airy, imaginative, delightfully played.

The concluding Chopin "Cherise in B Minor," was truly worthy of the concert platform, its entrancing tenderness and mounting climax evidently pleased the player as much as did its rendition her listeners, for the concluding and Miss Ockenden, receiving a double encore repaid with a Chopin prelude and a Last etude.

ASSISTING TENOR
Thomas Kelway, excellent tenor, who assisted, is a singer always welcomed, and has certainly earned his right to be known as one of the city's concert favorites.

He sang two groups, selected chiefly from well-known operatic tenor arias, the first being (a) "Com'e Gentil Serenata," from the third act of "Don Pasquale" (Donizetti), lovely, strange and languorous, in which the long sustained notes and seductive rhythm were admirably given; (b) "Alc'Aperto," the extraordinarily melodious air, sung with genuine feeling, in the third act of Puccini's "Tosca," in all of which there were delightful diction and good phrasing.

His second group began with the beautiful apostrophe for tenor, Gounod's exquisite tender melody, "All Hall! Thou Dwellings," from the opera, "Faust," not easy to sing, and one of the loveliest arias in the realm of opera. This was finely achieved.

The group ended with two pretty songs sung with splendid expressive results, and again with word distinction, Clay's "Songs of Araby," and Brahms' "Bless This House." Mr. Kelway received a warm recall, responding with "Thoughts Have Wings."

Mrs. Clifford Warr, as accompanist to the singer, did her full share well. The recital was sponsored by the Victoria Musical Art Society, being one of its winter series of monthly concerts.

Fay Wray Star At Columbia

Fay Wray, like so many other successful dramatic actresses, got her start in pictures in fast-action, slapstick comedies where a hurried plot was still in, one of the chief sources of screen humor.

Fay, who will be seen in the Columbia production, "Master of Men," at the Columbia Theatre, will not say whether her beautiful face ever served as a target for a jealous cupid's pie, but she does admit that she got invaluable training in picture work while appearing in Century Comedies. Being shown as a second feature is Zane Grey's "Thundering Herd," starring Harry Carey, and the second chapter of the Buck Jones serial, "A Leap for Life."

ALL-TIME LOW IN DEATH-RATE

—Toronto, Nov. 8.—Canada's death-rate has decreased during the last four years of economic stress until now it is the lowest in the history of the country, according to Dr. Grant Fleming, director of the department of public health and preventive medicine at McGill University, Montreal.

Dr. Fleming spoke on "Health and the Depressor" at the tenth annual meeting of the Canadian Dental Hygiene Council here.

'GRAND CANARY' Revue Features Comedy Numbers

Warner Baxter and Madge Evans Have Leading Roles; W. Houston Also Starred

Uncle Sam helped in the production of "Grand Canary," based on a novel by A. J. Cronin and now at the Playhouse Theatre. The picture has its setting principally at sea and on Grand Canary, one of the Spanish-controlled Canary Islands. The unusual beauty of a particular house and strangely exotic tropical sublimity of its surrounding estate were the stimulants that started the dreamy speculation of the author and resulted in the novel.

Obviously, it would be expensive to send a company to Grand Canary. The consular service, available to U.S. industry for research data, made photographs completely covering the house and grounds. Artists, construction crews and landscape artists completed the work at the studio and Warner Baxter and Madge Evans are supplied an ideal setting for the development of their romance.

NEWS IN BRIEF

A special Remembrance Day service will be conducted in Metropolitan United Church on Sunday morning at 10.45 o'clock by Rev. R. F. Church.

The Trades and Labor Council yesterday evening appointed President R. D. Lemay its delegate to the advisory committee on tourist traffic being organized by Mayor Leeming.

The case of Arthur Beauchamp, Port Huenfrow, charged with supplying liquor for sale, was remanded until Friday morning, when it was called in by the Provincial Police Court yesterday.

A meeting of the Victoria and District Cornish Society will be held on Saturday in the Macca's Hall, Fort Street, at 8 o'clock. Following the meeting there will be cards. All members are asked to attend.

A meeting of Ward Seven Ratepayers' Association will be held in the Tillamook School, to-morrow evening, at 8 o'clock. J. Pickard, secretary, asks that all ratepayers attend an important business will be discussed.

The Knights and Dames of the Thistle will hold an old-time dance in the K. of P. Hall, Broad Street, to-morrow evening. The speaker will be Mr. Symms, who will be in the chair.

The sale of tickets for the Armistice Ball at the Empress Hotel to-morrow night indicates that it will be one of the most successful social events of the season. A few tickets are still available and may be obtained at the door by those who have not yet secured them.

Two overcoats were stolen from the Clarence Cleaners, View Street, when the premises were entered early yesterday evening, according to a police report. Investigation revealed entrance had been gained by cutting a hole in the glass door to reach the door handle inside.

The Spanish School Board yesterday evening gave permission to Chris Wade, interview principal of the school, to give a lecture on "The League of Nations," by H. T. Ravenhill.

The usual weekly luncheon of the Victoria Credit Granters' Association will be held in the Douglas Hotel, at 12.10 o'clock to-morrow. H. A. Beckwith will speak on "Common Frauds and Possible Ways of Meeting Them." Mr. Beckwith will also give a lecture on "The League of Nations," by H. T. Ravenhill.

Two bicycles stolen from the Oak Bay Manual Training School were recovered yesterday, partly dismantled and left in Pemberton Woods, according to a City Police report. The machines were taken on Tuesday afternoon and yesterday a youngster walking through the woods found the parts. He reported it to his father, who notified police.

The Victoria West Community Forum will hold its first meeting for this season Thursday evening at 8 o'clock in the social hall of the Victoria West United Church. Rev. W. R. Brown will be the speaker, talking on his subject, "Highlights in My Trip Through England, Ireland, Scotland, France and the United States—With a Survey of Religious and Economic Conditions."

As the result of an accident on the Four Mile Hill on October 31, Percy Criddle was fined $25 and $25 costs for driving to the common danger, when his case came before Magistrate Jay in the Provincial Court yesterday. The accused, Mr. Criddle, was driving through James S. McIntyre, Mr. Criddle was driving towards the city in the early evening when he collided with a truck parked on the roadside.

Resumption of the practice of presenting a gold medal to the young student passing into high school every year was advocated in three letters received by the Saanich school trustees yesterday evening, from Mr. R. O. Oldfield, Mrs. D. B. Hoole and J. J. Young. The board explained these awards had been made by private interests and not by the board itself.

The Esquibois football team held a successful dance at the Mount View High School recently. The Belmont orchestra dispensed the dance music. The prize drawing took place at midnight. Those holding the winning tickets were: Mrs. Newbury, women's toilet set, No. 100; Miss M. Rogers, men's brush set, No. 113. The next business meeting will place to-morrow at St. Martin's Hall.

A special service will be held at the Tabernacle of the Christian and Missionary Alliance, Yates Street, below Government Street, when Rev. A. E. Danks of the Biblical Research Society, will give a lecture to-morrow evening at 8 o'clock. The subject of the lecture is "Why should we seek to save the Jews?" The address will be illustrated with lantern slides.

All arrangements have been completed for the musical and literary evening given by the Victoria and District Cornish Society, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Cameron, 1085 Moss Street, to-morrow evening, at 8 o'clock. A very interesting programme is to be given and supper will be served. All friends of the association who are interested will be given further details by telephoning G 3896.

Stanley Hearn and Hugh Moynihan were named delegates to the annual meeting of the Vancouver branch of the Revellers' Club on November 17 by the local club at its regular dinner meeting yesterday evening. The entertainers will stage a treasure hunt on November 25, the committee to arrange this being Russell Aird, Mr. Hearn and Mr. Moynihan. Announcement was made of the address which T. G. S. Chambers will give to the club at its next meeting on tea growing in Ceylon.

Fraser Valley milk producers are scheduled to meet the Provincial Marketing Board here to-morrow to discuss further details of their marketing scheme. It is understood the producers have accepted principles laid down by the board with respect to pooling and grading and are prepared to agree on completion of the scheme ready for submission to the cabinet for approval. Argument developed on these points at a hearing before the board last week but most of the difficulties have now been straightened out.

Asks Help Of All Employees

Minister of Labor Says They Should Let Department Know of Conditions

"The sooner employees realize they should not fight their employers, and probably get discharged, but write us a line—and not even sign their name, if they do not want to—the better for all concerned," stated Hon. George S. Pearson, Minister of Labor, when speaking before members of the Rotary Club at luncheon to-day in the Empress Hotel on the minimum wage question.

"If we receive such word from employees we will investigate," Mr. Pearson said. "We have the power to see books and payrolls. Employees must not expect us to make laws and then be continually finding out if they are enforced. We need co-operation."

Mr. Pearson stated the member of his department consider they had made progress along these, and had done only a small amount of damage. There is no progress without someone being hurt, the minister stated. He said things would adjust themselves in time.

The enforcements of our orders have not been quite as well carried out as we hope," he said. "We do not want to bludgeon anyone. We want inspectors with a human viewpoint. We do not want to bring people to court. Most of the business people of British Columbia have given us a great deal of co-operation. A few, it is true, have tried to put obstacles in our way. It is a man will not play the game with us he will find he will get the worst of it, and will have to come on his hands and knees in the end."

Some of the industrialists of the province, Mr. Pearson stated, are of the new order," Mr. Pearson stated. The Department of Labor was trying to study each industry as it went along, Mr. Pearson said. Some industries were doing better than others. New labor laws went into effect, he stated, but such conditions would ultimately be righted. The department was not making any laws, but was trying to get the standards of living, he said, by seeing that goods were evenly distributed through the means of wages.

Mr. Pearson declared there was no reason why married men, twenty-three years of age, after serving five years with a firm and earning $23 a week should be discharged at the present time.

"Such a man should have been let out long ago," Mr. Pearson said, "or else he is worth his money."

There were two types of industry, he said. One was the type of industry the department must deal with, the minister said, the large type, which must deal on the outside market and which depended on world prices, and the mercantile industry, which was competitive. If a minimum wage of $20 a week were set in the mercantile field, it would do harm to some of the industry, he said.

Mr. Pearson briefly referred to business ethics and codes, saying: "You cannot enforce such codes, even though you legalize them. Ethics are something essentially of the spirit."

J. Morse Hall, president of the Rotary Club, presided at the luncheon and introduced the minister, and thanked him at the conclusion of his address.

Plans for the forthcoming ministerial show were discussed, and Reginald Hincks, who will direct it, spoke a few words.

CHARLES C. HOLE DIES IN SOUTH

Charles C. Hole, of 2529 Bowker Avenue, who left Victoria six weeks ago with Mr. Hole to spend the winter in the south, passed away suddenly in California, according to word received in the city.

Mr. Hole was born in South Africa sixty-seven years ago, but came to Canada as a boy of fifteen. He made his home for many years in Montreal where he was engaged as chief traveling auditor for the Sun Life Assurance Company for thirty years. He retired in 1921, since when he had resided in Victoria.

He is survived by his widow, who will accompany the remains from California to Montreal, where the services and interment will take place.

PAY LAST TRIBUTE

The funeral of George Wells, who passed away in this city on Sunday, took place yesterday afternoon. A large number of friends attended the service and the casket was banked with many beautiful floral tributes.

The service was held at 2 o'clock in the funeral home of Mr. P. W. McInnes, assisted by Rev. Canon P. A. Chadwick, conducted the service, during which the hymns "When the Mists Have Rolled Away" and "Rock of Ages" were sung. Interment was in Royal Oak Burial Park, with the following as pallbearers: F. Thompson, G. Bowers, J. A. Corlett, E. R. Richardson, A. Braidwood and A. T. Richards.

SPEED FLIGHT ACROSS THE U.S.

Burbank, Cal., Nov. 8.—Seeking a new United States transcontinental speed record, both for transport and speed planes, a big transport plane with Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker in charge, took off from the Union Air Terminal here for New York at 5.45 a.m. P.S.T. to-day.

An official timer of the National Aeronautics Association was present in order to make whatever mark is made by the plane official.

One stop was planned on the flight, at Chicago, where the plane was scheduled to be refueled.

Besides Rickenbacker, the plane carried two pilots and three passengers.

Ideal weather conditions were reported along the "Great Circle" route over which the craft was scheduled to fly at an altitude of 10,000 feet to take advantage of prevailing winds.

The route lies over Pueblo, Colo., and Omaha, Neb. Rickenbacker expected to reach Chicago about 4.30 p.m. C.S.T.

PASSED AWAY TO-DAY

Mrs. Elizabeth Elliott, who passed away early this morning at her home, 1328 Foul Bay Road, in her eighty-fourth year. Mrs. Elliott had been a resident of Victoria for many years, and, until ill-health confined her to her home, was a familiar figure at the Women's Canadian Club, of which she was a highly esteemed member.

LEG INJURED IN CITY ACCIDENT

Scotty Pelkey, an Indian, suffered an injured leg when struck at the corner of Fort and Douglas Streets by an automobile at 2.45 o'clock this morning. The driver of the car was Frank Greenway, who was proceeding east on Fort Street. The Indian, police stated, had just stepped off the curb and was proceeding across the street. His injuries were not believed to be serious.

SAFETY DEVICE FOR CYCLISTS

An innovation for the safety of cyclists in the city is now being considered by Chief of Police Thomas Heatley. In his office the chief had a white celluloid strip for attaching to the rear of bicycles which makes them visible at night by approaching automobiles.

The chief received the device from Mrs. W. P. Horrell, 542 Howell Street, who recently returned from a trip to the Old Country, where, she stated, cyclists are compelled to use these devices.

The strip is about ten inches and is attached to the mudguard of a bicycle by two small strips of metal. It is suspended from the mudguard in the same manner as a mud flap, and the words "safety first" are written on it. The chief plans to have a local business firm interest itself in them, and if this were done he believes they could be made available to cyclists for five or ten cents.

Appointment of Joseph Speakman of Castlegar and James Skinner of Trest, at Justice of the Peace was announced at the Parliament Buildings to-day.

The annual meeting of Ward One Victoria Liberal Association will be held in the Liberal Rooms, corner of Government and Broughton streets, on Monday evening at 8 o'clock. A large attendance is expected.

LEVEL MUST BE RETAINED

Money Available But Adequate Investment Return Essential, Says B. P. Alley

"Quite substantial reductions have been made in interest rates in certain directions, and I am not prepared to say whether we should not go further, but the thought to be kept in mind is that in a young country like Canada we must be sure the people with capital to invest in the development of our natural resources receive an adequate return on their investment," said Brenton P. Alley, assistant general manager of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, in discussing cheap money with a representative of The Times at the Empress Hotel to-day.

"Progress in Canada," continued Mr. Alley, "is linked with the development of our vast lands and natural resources, and capital, of course, is required for their development. But development in a new country carries risk with it, and in order that capital may be encouraged in that kind of development, an attractive return is necessary."

"So we must be careful to keep the return on capital on an attractive level. Otherwise it would not be worth while for people to loan out money for investment."

CREDIT AVAILABLE

"Canadian banks still are ready and willing to lend money to legitimate enterprise—that is what they are in business for; the banks have not shut down on credit," said Mr. Alley. He was questioned on the attitude of U.S. bankers were awaiting the public demand and would not refuse loans to industry.

"Our position in Canada is much the same," said Mr. Alley. "The public has labored under the delusion that the banks have stopped lending. The situation has been that the demands for money on loans have decreased. When that demand increases, people will find that they can get the money provided, of course, that the basis for the loan is sound."

At the present time, the banker said, there was an increasing call for money in the east, coinciding with the appreciable upswing in business conditions, and improvement was also noted in British Columbia.

"There is more money in the country than most people think," said the banker. "Mistakes have been made by most individuals and businesses in good times, but there is a general attempt to climb the hill out of the depression. The way out of the depression has not been around a corner, but up a hill. There are business ways up a hill one is to make a steady climb, and the other is to build an elevator. However, the people who try to build an elevator probably will find that they are up in the air without any place to get off. The steady climb is the sure way."

In support of his contention that there was plenty of money in the country, Mr. Alley mentioned the success of the Dominion of Canada refunding loans. He is convinced that Canada has weathered the depression well, and feels that Canadians should be proud that the Dominion was among the nations pointing the way to recovery.

Mr. Alley is making his second inspection trip to the Coast this year in line with the policy of the bank to keep in personal touch with its branches. He is conferring with the local manager, J. W. Ruggles, and plans to leave on Saturday on his return to Toronto.

Brandon-Handy TRIAL STARTS

Supreme Court Hears Echo of $5,000 Damage Suit Against Saanich Chief

Frederick Louis Handy's $5,000 damage suit against Police Chief Rankin of Saanich for alleged false arrest a few years ago echoed through the Supreme Court here to-day when J. S. Brandon, Lottie Barbara Handy and Forrest L. Shaw brought action before Mr. Justice Robertson against Mr. Handy and Ambrose Franklins Matthews.

"This is an action to set aside the alleged conveyance from Handy to Matthews of the property in West Saanich which was Handy's home and property," said D. S. Tait, counsel for the plaintiffs, who is conducting the case with S. H. Tait as solicitor for the plaintiffs.

"Handy sued Chief of Police Rankin for $5,000 damages," Mr. Tait said. "That action was prosecuted by Mr. Brandon, who incurred therein considerable costs and disbursements. The conveyance to Matthews was in July, 1932, and was given for no cash consideration. No money was paid over at the time, only a note for one year. Almost immediately the defendant then took steps to sell the property at a quick sale price. Forty days later they found a purchaser and Handy made himself very active in that sale, delivering the property to the purchaser. We say that the sale was fraudulent and for the purpose of defeating his creditors."

Mr. Tait also explained that Mr. Brandon was seeking the unpaid costs incurred by Mr. Handy in connection with his divorce suit.

Mr. Brandon was on the stand most of the morning.

Norman W. Whitaker is conducting the defence.

Large and Pullet Eggs Up in Price

Eggs have taken a slight rise in price on the local market.

Grade A large are up one cent, while Grade A pullet have risen two cents. The price for Grade A medium eggs remains steady.

The Montreal egg market remains firm, and a large number of eggs are being shipped from the province to the east. The local egg market has about reached its price peak and a drop at any moment may occur.

Plan Big Gala To Bring On Junior Aquatic Talent Here

Swimming League To Meet Shortly On Major Event

AMATEUR sport in four branches in Canada will miss the tall, dashing figure of Lynn Patrick, Victoria, who last week decided to cast his lot with the professionals and signed to play hockey with his father's New York Rangers in the National Hockey League. In basketball, English rugby, Canadian football and hockey young Patrick made his mark in Victoria, Winnipeg and Montreal during the last few years. Lynn and his brother Murray were two of the main stars for Blue Ribbons when the local quintette captured the Canadian basketball championship in 1933, while last year the Patriks starred for Montreal-Nationals who reached the Dominion final, but were defeated by Vancouver Province in the deciding series.

In the fall of 1933 Lynn turned out with the Montreal football club in the eastern Interprovincial Rugby Football Union, and was an important member of the team that lost the union play-off to Toronto Argonauts. He also played with Winnipeg early this season. During last winter, although he had been out of hockey for three years, he made good at the centre of Montreal Royals in the senior group, the team giving McGill University a terrific battle in the league final before going down to defeat.

As a three-quarter in English rugby Patrick was without a peer in Canada. Possessing great speed, strength and wonderful ability in swerving and driving his way through a mass of players Patrick played a leading role in many McKechnie Cup victories scored by local fifteen. An exceptionally large pair of hands also made him valuable as a receiver of passes, both in English and Canadian codes. Three or four years ago Patrick went to California with a British Columbia all-star English rugby fifteen and his performances were so impressive that several California American football coaches sought his services.

World unrest is very evident just now in lawn tennis politics. F. J. Perry, the chief instrument in bringing back the Davis Cup to Britain, is entertaining many offers to professionalize his talents. Australia may not compete for the Davis Cup in 1935, Wimbledon has turned down the demands for an open tournament because, declares a leading light of the English Lawn Tennis Association, such an event would mean that three years kill Wimbledon as a social function. Throughout the world forces making for progress are fighting a battle against the reactionaries.

Why is it that Perry should not be allowed to play for England in the Davis Cup competition if he were to take part in some lawn tennis films at Hollywood? Can anyone give a reasoned answer to the query? Yet Perry accepts the Hollywood contract which is now baiting him then he would be withdrawn from the lawn tennis association, Wimbledon and other affiliated clubs and associations. Nevertheless for the last four years Perry has lived on his lawn tennis proceeds, paid out of lawn tennis association funds. At the moment no one knows which side of the fence Perry will come down.

Then comes the question of Australia, which Dominion has been asking for a Pacific zone for the Davis Cup competition. According to Norman Brookes, who is practically the dictator of Australian lawn tennis affairs, Australia will not take part in the Davis Cup competition next year. The Dominion is committed to a visit to Japan. At a meeting of the Australian Lawn Tennis Association, Brookes explained that they wished to visit Japan, and they would place this visit before competition in the European zone of the Davis Cup. He said it was their duty to support the Japanese team, especially as the Japanese were supporting their centenary championships. If an eastern zone was formed it would be possible for Australia to visit Japan and compete in the Davis Cup.

Some striking comments on cricket and leg theory were made by H. H. Hallam when presenting local cricket league trophies at Eastbourne, England. "I am told that international matches are conducive to goodwill between nations," he said. "If I had not been told that on road authority I should not have noticed it myself." Earlier he had said, with regard to the pronouncements of the M.C.C. concerning leg theory: "I do hope whatever the M.C.C. may do, that they will bear in mind, in legislation to meet the demand that has arisen out of the highest kind of skill in cricket, the need for care so as not unduly to interfere with the great body of players who do not pretend to be able to bowl on a sixpence, who bowl with no intention of getting the batsman out, but to bowl him out."

The great body of cricketers," he concluded, "the game's sake, and I wonder sometimes if all the controversy one hears would not have been dead but for a few of the sensational writers."

School Football Final Postponed

Pending a protest filed by Victoria West School against Oaklands claiming that the latter were dating seniors in a junior game, the listed final between Oaklands and Margaret Jenkins, for junior school cup, which was to have been played to-day, has been postponed to a later date.

Possibility of B.C. Championship Contests Considered For City Before Christmas

"Y" Membership Running High

Making plans for young juniors who, they hope, will attain a standard to equal that of the retiring old guard, swimming interests in the city to-day turned their attention to another big gala to furnish at least city-wide competition. Next week, it was announced by Captain M. D. Harbord, chairman of the Vancouver Island Swimming League, his executive will hold a meeting to discuss plans for some big event before Christmas.

While definite plans will be left in abeyance until after the meeting, there is a good chance the gala will include a British Columbia women's breast stroke championship race, which would keep Monica Trump, the V.A.S.C.'s leading performer, in training for other contests during the winter season.

The club will stage school relay eliminations at the Crystal Garden on Friday evening. "We will run a big gala sometime before Christmas and may include in it one or more British Columbia championships, providing the approval of the league," Captain Harbord stated to-day.

PLAN AQUATIC PARTY In the meantime, the Y.M.C.A. is considering a glorified splash party, either at the Crystal Garden or the association, which would include several exhibitions, contests, and demonstrations for the particularly large swimming membership in the Y.

At present the association has a senior club of about thirty members, while a like number form the junior club, twenty the junior boys, twenty the preparatory girls and another thirty the tadpole girls. In the boys' section there are another twenty or thirty youngsters who have not yet graduated to the competitive club stage but who need a meet or two to put them in the higher class.

It is with that intention that activities are being contemplated. for young contenders, there is plenty of room for local and provincial crowns for Victoria in recent seasons have fast slipping from the sport. So far very few have been forced to take their places, but it is believed that if interest is stimulated by galas of this kind, the standard of swimming will make rapid strides here.

KEATING WINS OVER PATRICK

Winnipeg Light Heavyweight Takes Four-round Decision From Victoria Battler

Art Keating, Winnipeg boxer, finalist in the Canadian championship, proved too much for Muzz Patrick, Victoria, light heavyweight, who was making his second appearance in the ring, and won the decision in the four-round main event of yesterday evening's amateur boxing, staged in the Tillium gym by the Victoria Athletic Club.

Keating snapped a left hook to Patrick's chin in the first round, and Muzz went down for the count of eight, but the Victoria boy got up, and the contest continued to fight aggressively to the end of the bout.

The semi-windup saw Walt Davis, Chemainus, win the decision over Roy Paul, of the Navy. At the start Paul was the aggressor, but failed to stop his lighter opponent, and toward the finish time badly, and Davis was all over him. They fought at 175 pounds.

George Kaiser, Canadian Scottish boxer, went down to defeat at the hands of Biff Griffin, Hillcrest, by a technical knockout. In the second round Griffin gave him some stiff right-hand punches, and Kaiser was knocked out all the fight out of him.

Lots of excitement prevailed when Rex Carey, Kelowna, backed Dick McKinn around the ring during the three rounds to win the decision. Near the finish McKinn was tottering around ready to drop.

In the 125-pound class, Alex Webster won the decision over Sherry Patterson, in a fast three-two-minute round bout. In the 100-pound class, George White and Joe Parks battled to a draw.

The 60-pound class brought together two youngsters, Kid Kerna-chan and Roy Battie, who battled to a draw. Both boys showed plenty of science.

In the 130-pound class, Doug Day defeated Jack Church, both showing good style. In the 115-pound class, Ed. McKinn won the decision over G. Haslam.

Stanley James was the third man in the ring. Bob Vipond and Bill Inglis were the judges.

It is with that intention that activities are being contemplated. for young contenders, there is plenty of room for local and provincial crowns for Victoria in recent seasons have fast slipping from the sport. So far very few have been forced to take their places, but it is believed that if interest is stimulated by galas of this kind, the standard of swimming will make rapid strides here.

Bays, Rangers and Navy Win Soccer

Take Close Games in Mid-week Loop; Single Points Divide All But One Team in League; Bays Whip Garrison

Hudson's Bay, Outer Wharf Rangers, Garrison, Navy, Spencer's and Macbees were strung out in that order in the Wednesday football standings to-day. With a point separating all but the last mentioned, as the result of yesterday's games, Hudson's Bay blanked the Garrison 1 to 0, and Rangers beat the Macbees by the same score at the Athletic Park, while Navy set back Spencer's, last season's champions, 2 to 0 at Admirals Road.

Slippery fields and greasy balls precluded good soccer, but did not prevent keen competition. Tommy Musgrave's goal late in the second half gave the Bays their margin over the hard-fighting Garrison. In the match which decided the league leadership.

A strong department store defence, including George Wyatt and Jack O'Neil and Oakman Stevens and Kennedy, held out most of the Tommyist attacks, and Jack Baxter handled those that did penetrate to the last defence.

The Bays started on the attack, but were beaten back into their own ground. Miller passed up a good chance to leave the field, and the offensive, but could make no impression in spite of a good corner. Play swung from end to end, with the rival backs showing good form, as did the goalies.

Cook and Don Fish missed narrowly with shots at the respective goals. Miller just grazed the posts shortly after, and Musgrave asked a chance at the other end.

The ball went up and down the field as the teams returned to a fast pace following the rest interval.

Ellsworth Vines Goes to England

New York, Nov. 8.—Ellsworth Vines, celebrated professional tennis player, sailed for England yesterday evening to compete in the English and French indoor professional championships. Vines plans to return before the first of the year to start on a winter barnstorming tour with Bill Tilden, George M. Lott Jr., and other pro racket wielders.

Hudson's Bay In Basketball Win

In a Saanich and Suburban Basketball League game played yesterday evening the Hudson's Bay girls defeated the Saanich 15 to 10. The Bays led 5 to 0 at half-time.

away clear, the sailors had an edge throughout the first half. Returning from an attack launched by Spencer's, the sailors worked their way through Dave Watt took the ball inside the penalty area and rifled it home for the opening score, and the only goal of the first half.

Spencer's fought back and Les Bradley shot in a smart drive. Spencer's switched their line-up for the second half and showed considerable improvement even though they could not make their attacks against the spectacular performance turned in by Caldwell.

Tom Watt added the Navy's second corner about ten minutes from time. He tricked his way past two Spencer's defenders and then lifted the ball into the departmental net.

Spencer's—Stewartson, Cann, Munroe, Moir, Chapman, D. Bradley, Browne, Bissell, Bode, Clarke and L. Bradley.

B.C. MAY SEE HOCKEY BREAK

Interior Clubs Dissatisfied With Treatment From Provincial Branch of C.A.H.A.

Canadian Press Nelson, Nov. 8.—The West Kootenay Hockey League to-day had expressed its dissatisfaction with the manner in which the British Columbia branch of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association conducted affairs in the province, and threatened unless something was done about it that the interior body would break away and join the Alberta branch.

At a meeting of the W.K.H.L. here yesterday evening the delegates were unanimous in their criticism of the B.C. office at Vancouver.

A. W. McDonald, Nelson, said that he had sent in requests for five hockey key forms in August, and despite several wires to Vancouver did not receive them until two months later. He stated that the B.C. Association had issued cards when it had no right to—in fact before it was known whether certain transfers were obtained.

Clarence Reddick, long a stalwart of Trail Smoke Eaters, declared that the residence rule was not applied the same throughout Canada, and that the constitution was the same. He stated that the B.C. Association had been discredited in a certain case in eastern Canada last year.

Lloyd Grove, Trail, agreed that the B.C. organization was not functioning properly. The annual meeting should be held on or before November 15, and to date nothing had been announced in this connection.

He stated that as the meetings were supposed to alternate between the coast and the interior, and as the meeting had been held at the coast last year, it should be held in the interior this year.

FRENCH NET STARS HERE

Jacques Grugnon and Christian Boususs En Route to Australia For Matches

A warning that France within the next few years will regain her place as a leading Davis Cup contender, and a prediction that tennis will be placed on a par with golf, permitting intermingling of professionals and amateurs, were given by Christian Boususs and Jacques Grugnon, French net stars, here yesterday. Boususs and Grugnon, ranked No. 1 and 4 respectively in France, arrived here showed the liner Aorangi, en route to Australia, where they will play in the Victoria state championships at Melbourne during the centenary celebrations there. Later they will enter the Australian national championships.

"We French have been outclassed lately in Davis Cup play-downs," Boususs said, "but we hope to reverse this situation soon. You see, we have lost many of our veterans, but we have many youngsters coming along, and whom we expect big things in the next couple of years." With Lott and other outstanding United States net players turning professional, Boususs believes the times are far distant when amateurs will be allowed to play with professionals without endangering their status.

JACK ALLEN TO REFEREE

Vancouver Promoter Will Be Third Man in Ring For Davies-Fielding Fight

Jack Allen, well-known Vancouver promoter, will be the third man in the ring for the Albie Davies-Tommy Fielding fifteen-round fight at the Tillium gym on Saturday evening. Announcement of the selection of Allen as referee was made to-day by promoter Joe Bayley.

Judges for the main event and the other bouts on the card will be Al McKinnon and Angus (Scotty) McKay, Lennie Oliver and Harry Stanley will be the timekeepers. Fred Richardson will officiate as announcer. Art Keating will be the referee for the preliminary bout.

To-night at the Tillium gym Davies and Fielding will work out for the Do Dads in as many starts, and will be seen in action the next hour.

RAINVILLE IN FOURTH PLACE

Canadian Tennis Champion Victim of Peculiar Ranking in Quebec

Montreal, Nov. 8.—An oddity of competition yesterday evening showed Marcel Rainville, Dominion champion, listed no better than fourth by the Province of Quebec Lawn Tennis Association, which placed Robert D. Murray in the No. 1 spot.

Rainville is expected to be ranked No. 1 in the Dominion because he won the eastern Canada, the Ontario and the Dominion titles, but he had a bad season on province of Quebec courts, being defeated in all three tournaments in the province in which he competed.

The rankings are: 1. R. D. Murray; 2. Laid Watt; 3. E. Roland Longtin; 4. Marcel Rainville; 5. Henri Paul Emard; 6. Charles W. Leslie; 7. Jack Reisman; 8. Stuart Veysey; 9. Paul Deschenes; 10. J. J. Baldwin, all of Montreal.

Hand Kingham-Gillespie First Defeat in Intermediate A Division 28 to 20 in Rough Battle; Sharpe and Phillips Banished For Fighting; Colonist and Do Dads Victors

Regents, Do Dads and Colonist were the winners in yesterday evening's City League basketball games at the High School gym. The first named handed Kingham-Gillespie, former leaders in the intermediate A division, their first setback of the season 28 to 20 in a rough game that saw the banishment of two players for fighting. Sharp of the Regents and Phillips of Kingham-Gillespie, The Colonist defeated the Tilliums 35 to 19 to remain at the head of the men's senior B section and the Do Dads accounted for the Hudson's Bay 31 to 26 to retain first place in the men's senior C division.

In a game that was marked by rough play and the display of fiery tempers, Regents defeated Kingham-Gillespie. Defeat cost the losers the intermediate A leadership and sent them into a second place tie with the Regents. This shake-up makes the Regents undisputed leaders of this division, as they have yet to lose a game.

HAD ADVANTAGE The Regents held a big advantage over their opponents in regard to height and weight, and these two factors played an important part in the downfall of the coal merchants. Although they managed to square through with the win, the Regents by no means displayed anything like the basketball of which they are capable. Their passing and shooting was off color, due, no doubt, to the fact that they were "playing the men" too much and not paying close enough attention to the finer points of the game.

From the outset it was apparent the Regents were out to win, and two or three of their players were going around with "chips" on their shoulders during the whole game. As the Kingham-Gillespie five fought desperately to stay within scoring reach of their opponents during the second half, the game developed into a rough and tumble affair with fouls being committed fast and furiously. The Regents and shooting was off color, due, no doubt, to the fact that they were "playing the men" too much and not paying close enough attention to the finer points of the game.

Just before the end, when tempers were at the breaking point, Chuck Sharp of the Regents lost his head completely and with fists flying "ploughed" into young Phillips of the Kingham-Gillespie. Sharp had been looking for trouble all night, and this display sent him to the cooler for the rest of the game. Unfortunately Phillips was also sent off.

SUSPENSION LIKELY As soon as a report goes into "headquarters" the matter will be dealt with by the league executive, and it is more than likely that one or both of the players will be suspended as this is the second flare-up in local basketball this season. One has just to look at the frog show down to get an idea of the play. All told, thirty free throws were awarded, and twenty of these went to the Kingham-Gillespie team who made ten of them good for points.

Regents made six field goals good for twelve points in the opening half, while they held their opponents to a lone basket by the end of the first half. Edges each scored two free throws to make the half time score 12 to 6 for the Regents.

Do Dads had just about all they could handle in their game with the Hudson's Bay, and barely managed to pull through with a victory. The win marked the third triumph for the Do Dads in as many starts, and places them well at the top of the men's senior C division. The Hudson's Bay, on the other hand, have dropped the last three games, but their showing yesterday evening was their best effort since the season opened. Young Baxter, tip-off man for the Bays, just about broke single handed by running in fourteen points during the forty minutes of play.

As had been expected the Colonist senior B team came through with flying colors at the expense of the Tilliums, and marked up another win to their undefeated record. The win for the newbies creates a three-way tie for first place in the men's senior B division. Neither team played good ball, and the game was very ragged, with poor passing and erratic shooting being very much in evidence.

Teams and scores follow: Do Dads: Bradley 1, Rawlins, Ewing 2, Mowat 6, Morrison 6, Robertson 4, N. Morgan 6, E. Morgan, W. Strupp 6, Total 31. Hudson's Bay: Baxter 14, Williamson 2, Kennedy, McCulloch 3, O'Connell, Fremont, Richards 6, O'Neil 2, Total 28. Kingham and Gillespie: Anderson 7, Scott 5, Moore 5, McGee 4, McConnell, Turner 6, Phillips 3, Berry, Dale, Total 20. Tillams: Bradley 6, Baker 4, Miles 3, Hill 2, Pettiford 1, Wells, Bourne 6, Pasmore, Moxley 1, Nord, Total 19. Colonist: Stipes, Florence 10, Jones 7, Scott 5, McKenrich 2, TOTAL 25. Elliot-2, McKenrich 2, TOTAL 25. Alan Le Marquand refereed all games.

Wallace Decisions Veteran Townsend

Clever Young Battler Proves Too Fast and Clever For Once Great Welterweight; Townsend Goes Down Three Times During Fifteen Rounds

Canadian Press

Vancouver, Nov. 8.—Blonde Billy Townsend, the once great better from Nanaimo and former king of Canadian welterweights, to-day was another step nearer the end of the trail that comes, sooner or later, to all fighters.

The dynamite gone from the leather-padded fists which a few years ago carried him to a brilliant but short-lived career near the top of his division and to that mecca of all fighters, Madison Square Garden, Townsend yesterday dropped a fifteen-round decision to Gordon Wallace, Vancouver, until recently a comparatively unknown in the fight world.

Almost a year of ring inactivity took its toll on the sturdy fighter who was mugged, at one time, as a possible opponent for Jimmy McFarlin, world titleholder. His rushing tactics that bewildered many an opponent when he was at his best were useless against the clever Wallace, and the looping right hand smashes that gained him recognition as a great hitter, found only empty air or slid harmlessly off Wallace's gloved hands.

DOWN THREE TIMES

The dancing, feinting Wallace had too much generosity for his veteran ring foe and he coupled the fight with a whistling left and right-hand smashes that sent Townsend to his knees three times, in the eighth and eleventh rounds from crushing blows to the jaw, and in the tenth on a booming left to the body.

Townsend rallied gamely in the last three rounds, driving Wallace about the ring with both hands as he sought an opening that never came for his terrific right.

In the last round, knowing he needed to knockout to win, Townsend threw himself wide open to a bombardment of Wallace with both hands. Strung by a hair down left and right hooks that glanced over his gloves, Wallace back-pedaled and clinched to weather the round and gain the most important victory of his career.

Wallace, unmarked when the final gong sounded, opened a cut over Townsend's left eye in the fourth round and kept jabbing at the injury to reopen it again in the seventh and thirteenth.

PRELIMINARIES

Harry Marshall, speedy Vancouver lightweight, defeated Mickey Dodge, Sacramento, Calif., in the six-round semi-final bout. Dodge went to his knees three times in the second round. The Vancouver lad was too fast for him through the fourth and fifth rounds, and kept jabbing at the injury to reopen it again in the seventh and thirteenth.

Eddie Snyder, Tacoma, Wash., defeated Frank Elliot, of New Westminster, in another six-round bout. George Dent, Nanaimo welterweight, barely got started in his six-round battle with Johnny Foster, Vancouver, when he ran into Foster's right fist and went down. He jumped up, but was still dazed, and Foster forced him into the ropes with a two-fisted attack to the face, and the referee stopped the fight, giving the Vancouver boy a technical knockout.

Eddie Ryan, Winnipeg, won a decision over Red Gray, Vancouver, in the three-round curtain raiser.

AMERICANS WIN

Galt, Ont., Nov. 8.—New York Americans, of the National Hockey League, defeated Buffalo Bisons of the International League, 2 to 0, in an exhibition game here yesterday evening. The clubs had previously played to a tie game in Oshawa.

Rabbit McVeigh opened the scoring on a perfect pass from Sweeney Schirmer, Calgary rookie. Harry Oliver got the other goal.

$30,000 Offer Is Made to McLarnin

Los Angeles, Nov. 8.—Tom Gallery, local promoter, yesterday said that he had offered Jimmy McLarnin, world welterweight champion, a guarantee of $30,000 to fight Carleton Garcia, California title-holder, in a ten-round title outdoor bout here this winter. Garcia recently won a decision from Ben Von Klavren, Dutch fighter, who claims the championship of Europe.

Turning in a gross card of 77, which his seven handicap reduced to a net 70, Sandy Marling won the third monthly medal competition held yesterday afternoon at the Colwood Golf Club. Alex Straith finished second with 79-8-71.

MONCTON HAWKS WIN

St. John, N.B., Nov. 8.—Moncton Hawks tore the best of the Maritime Hockey League schedule, here, yesterday evening, with a 1 to 0 victory over Saint John Beavers. Charlie Marshall scored the only goal.

STOEFFEN NOT SIGNED YET

California Tennis Star Turns Down Offer to Join Professional Ranks

New York, Nov. 8.—The plans of sports promoter Bill O'Brien to include the American Davis Cup doubles team of George M. Lott Jr. and Lester R. Stoeffen in his winter tour of professional tennis players, went 50 per cent askew to-day when Stoeffen rejected an offer of 12½ per cent of the gate receipts to quit the amateur ranks.

Lott, generally recognized as the world's foremost doubles performer, last week signed a contract identical to the one Stoeffen turned down.

"His price is entirely too high and more than he is worth," O'Brien said. "I have returned the original contract to Stoeffen and sent him a telegram that he has until next Tuesday night to return it signed."

In the event Stoeffen does not come to terms with O'Brien the promoter will cast his line for some other amateur to team up with Ellsworth Vines, Bill Tilden and Lott, who will start the winter barnstorming circuit over seventy-five cities in January.

Windsor, Ont., Nov. 8.—Two squads that look to be as capable as any in the circuit—Windsor Bull Dogs and Detroit Olympics—open the International Hockey League season in Detroit to-night.

It will be Saturday before all six teams had a first taste of battle.

The rivals beside the Detroit River are expected to put on a bruising opening exhibition. Gamey Lederer's team is equipped with exceptional attacking strength, with such marksmen as Eddie Wiseman, Wilf Starr, Wally Kilrea, Normie Shultz and Lloyd Gross distributed between three forward lines.

Jack Tompkins, former University of Michigan player, will be in goal, and Lederer, Yip Foster and Ron Moffatt on the defence. Tompkins was selected rather than the veteran John Ross Roach, leading to the belief that manager Jack Adams of the Red Wings intends using Roach on the N.H.L. team.

Cleveland Indians and London Tecumsehs, 1933-34 champions, will make their debut to-morrow night at London with Syracuse Stars, and Buffalo Bisons get into action Saturday night at Fort Erie, Ont.

Miller-Girones Bout Postponed

Barcelona, Spain, Nov. 8.—The bout between Freddie Miller, U.S. claimant to the world featherweight boxing championship, and Jose Girones, native titleholder, was postponed indefinitely yesterday.

Miller and Girones were to have met last Sunday but the bout was postponed early last week.

Finance Plans For Long Highway

Vancouver, Nov. 8.—Construction of highway running from the international boundary through British Columbia and the Yukon and into the principal cities of Alaska, was described as a distinct possibility within the next few months by Roy Clark of Wenatchee, Wash., who addressed the engineering bureau of the Vancouver Board of Trade yesterday.

Clark, president of the Okanagan and Cariboo Trails Association, said a tentative plan to finance the project at a cost of approximately $14,000,000 had been prepared, but was not yet at liberty to give any details.

The tourist traffic of the Pacific northwest would undoubtedly double within the next ten years, Clark declared.

Wilson, former New Zealand English rugby star, is one of the shiftest men on the team and the hardest to tackle. His fast breaking ability and high knee stride make him an elusive ball carrier. He weighs 150 pounds.

FINE BACKFIELD

Cameron, one time considered the class of Coast English rugger, deserted the English code four years ago for the Canadian game. A perfect safety man, he is also a good broken field runner and a deadly tackler. He is one of the headiest players on the Coast. He scales 175.

George Niblo, Bunny Whitcroft and Bob Ellis are the other three backfielders. Niblo is the greatest broken field runner on the Coast. In two seasons he has never been knocked off his feet when tackled.

Whitcroft, playing his first year in senior company, is a noted safety man and ball carrier.

Ellis, former Roughrider, is probably the hardest player of the team. He fits in well on the extended end runs and has a wonderful straight arm which makes him a hard man to catch once he breaks away.

Ellis and Niblo are both fair forward passers, one department of the game which the Coast squad has not developed to any degree. They average 160 pounds, the same as Whitcroft.

MONTEAL HOCKEY

Montreal, Nov. 8.—Royals defeated Lafontaine, 2 to 1, and Canadiens were victorious over Verdun, 5 to 3, in a senior group, Quebec Amateur Hockey Association, doubleheader here yesterday evening.

REGINA PATS ARE POPULAR

All Hockey Centres in U.S. Want Junior Hockeyists to Perform on Tour

New York, Nov. 8.—Regina Pats, famed throughout Canadian hockey circles as a colorful, dashing team that can take it going or coming, are equally as well known throughout the United States for the deluge of demands for their bookings is any indication.

The Pats are scheduled to leave their far western homes shortly for a series of exhibition matches in American hockey palaces starting at Chicago November 20. Definite arrangements have so far been made for the crack junior puck-chasers to display their skill in Detroit, Philadelphia, Hershey, Pa., Baltimore, Lake Placid, N.Y., Atlantic City, twice, and New York, twice.

But from then on the schedule-makers are in a quandary.

Washington demands the Pats show there. Pittsburgh yells for them; Boston cries for them; Cleveland says they shall not pass without pushing them there; Buffalo threatens to call out the national guard to get the Regina lads on skates when they pass through that border city, while Syracuse and Minneapolis are pleading for dates on the Regina itinerary.

Probably all these centres could be accommodated but for the fact that the Pats are keen to get back home at the first of the New Year to step into the battle for the junior honors of the west.

A last desperate effort is to be made to have the Regina hockeyists extend their schedule a bit.

Travels Six Furlongs at Bay Meadows Track in 1.11 1-5 to Win Feature

San Mateo, Calif., Nov. 8.—Risky Miss, owned by J. D. Spreckels III and ridden by H. Walters, won the feature race at Bay Meadows track yesterday, setting a new track record for the six furlongs sprint. The time was 1.11 1-5.

Rock was second and Chictoney third. Rock led the field until the three-quarter pole, when Risky Miss drew up to win by half a length.

Risky Miss paid $10.80, $2.40 and $2.40. Rock returned $2.80 and $2.20, and Chictoney $2.40.

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR MISS DIX—My mother gave me a very pretty diamond ring, which I wear with pride and pleasure. My aunts and cousins tell me the reason I have no boy friends is because of this ring and that I am spoiling my chances of marriage by wearing it. They say I frighten the boys off by it and that no young man would marry a girl who wore such an expensive piece of jewelry. He would think he could never support her. Are they right in their viewpoint? KIMMA MAY.

Answer—I do not know whether a diamond ring could hoodoo a girl's chances of marriage, but I have known many a girl to lose out on getting a good husband by dressing too well.

In fact, nothing is more common than a pitiful tragedy that we see enacted over and over again in which a girl does the thing to attract a man that drives him farthest from her. She is pretty and she wants to make a hit with some young chap with whom she has fallen in love. She knows that fine feathers make fine birds, and that even a living picture is enhanced in attractiveness by a gorgeous frame. So she goes in for the chiffons and the velvet wraps and the imported millinery and the silk stockings and satin slippers that will add to her beauty and that she feels sure will capture her man.

But it does not. It scares him stiff. He hasn't the nerve to ask this bird of Paradise to live in the humble little chicken coop that is all that he can offer his wife. Besides, he thinks that she is just the kind of woman that he wants for a wife. He wants a helpmeet, a woman who will be willing to work and pinch pennies and wear hand-me-downs while he is getting a start in the world. He does not intend to handicap himself by a clothes-mad wife who will run him into debt with her extravagance, and who will not be happy unless she is decked out like the Queen of Sheba.

Many a girl frightens off a chap who would make her a good husband by lying about the dress that she made with her own fingers, being an import that she got so cheaply—only $150. Imagine it! And that her hat, which she really bought in a basement and trimmed over herself, was such a bargain—only $50. And generally giving the impression that she regards $100-bills as mere chicken feed. No young man in his senses is going to marry a girl like that. "Golly," he says to himself, "one dress would put me back a whole month's salary, and heaven knows what would happen to the family budget when she had to have a new pair of shoes or came home with a love of a little coat that they had marked down from $1,000 to $995.

"She belongs in the upper brackets with some millionaire. She is not in the class with a poor chap who is trying to make together a few dollars so he can say 'here' when opportunity knocks at his door. So I had best drop out of the picture before I get to looking too much into her eyes and thinking how cute she is. Besides, I don't like a girl who dresses beyond her means. It isn't good taste and it isn't good sense. And, no matter how good she is, it makes people wonder who pays her bills. So I will look about for little prettiness who looks sweet in a simple frock but doesn't try to outdo Mrs. Croesus."

Believe me, my dear, every young man worth having does count the cost of the upkeep of a wife, and many a one is frightened out of marriage by a girl's overdressing the part.

So perhaps it would be just as well to park that diamond ring if you want some poor young chap to put a gold band on your finger.

DOROTHY DIX.

DEAR MISS DIX—Our mother has been a good mother to us and we love her and appreciate all she has done for us and we are anxious to repay her in every way we can, but has she a right to make us sacrifice our whole lives to her? Her complaint is that just as soon as we are grown we leave her. When I married she almost went into convulsions. When my sister married she reproached her so cruelly that she left for her new home with the tears rolling down her cheeks. My eighteen-year-old sister has never had a date and will not go out because she knows what a scene mother will make if she does. My father's position is that our heavenly mother for our own homes is an act of ingratitude and shows that we do not love her. Can anything be done about it? A DEVOTED DAUGHTER.

Answer—Your mother is one of the possessive, selfish mothers who are perfectly willing to ruin their children's lives to gratify their own morbid maternal passion.

There are plenty of them. They warp their children's characters by never letting them have any association with youngsters of their own age. Every day you can hear one of them say: "I am my children's pal. We go everywhere together and do everything together. I am their only intimate friend."

They ruthlessly shut the door of opportunity in their children's faces because they cannot bear to be parted from them. You hear them say: "John had such a fine offer to go into business, but it would have necessitated his going to a far city and I just wouldn't let him go. What is money and success compared to being with those you love?"

They keep their children from marrying because they cannot bear to give them up. You hear them say: "Mary and Tom have promised they will never marry as long as I live. They are so devoted to me, and I have always been so glad that I broke up that foolish love affair Mary had when she was young and saved Tom from the clutches of that frivolous girl he was so crazy about, and who never would have spoiled him as I have done." And you see Tom and Mary growing stuffy and middle-aged and dull, sacrificed to an old woman's jealousy.

There is no use in arguing with a possessive mother, because she accounts it unto herself for righteousness to be so frantic about her children that she wants to own them body and soul, and keep them right in her hands all the time. But the children are weak and foolish and wrong to let her dominate them. They should break away from her and save their own lives. They should not let her spoil their happiness for them by holding them in slavery and preventing them from marrying, or from following where fortune leads them.

The right sort of mother wants her children to do what is best and happiest for them. She is the one who sacrifices herself to her children. She does not exact the sacrifice of their lives to her. DOROTHY DIX.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—I am thirty years old and am the sole support of my father, a brother twenty-two and a sister nineteen. Both my brother and sister are capable of working and taking care of themselves but they are too lazy to do so. I am engaged to a splendid girl, but they protest against my marrying her, for they realize that if I do they will lose the goose that lays the golden eggs. This is my problem: Shall I marry the girl and leave my brother and sister to take care of my father as well as shift for themselves? Or shall I break off the engagement? SID.

Answer—There is no reason in the world why you should sacrifice yourself to your brother and sister. You are doing them harm in making parasites of them instead of forcing them to stand on their own feet. Marry your girl and leave them flat so that they will have to either work or starve, but as they are young and inexperienced you should help them to support your father.

"The stars incline, but do not compel"

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 9, 1934

Conflicting planetary aspects are active to-day, according to astrology. Adverse influences appear to dominate.

In the morning hours there may be a tendency toward contention and quarrelling. The way is unfavorable to domestic serenity and the peace of the family may be more irritable than the women.

Much wrong thinking again will be prevalent among the people who will be inclined to find fault with government matters, municipal as well as federal.

This is not an auspicious day for aviation. Danger of accidents is foretold. Unexpected storms may cause trouble in the eastern states.

Women are fairly fortunate under this planetary government. It is a lucky day for those who seek employment.

This is not a fortunate day for beginning any important enterprise and the signing of leases or contracts is not under the most promising direction of the stars.

The late hours to-day are most fortunate for industry. News of national importance may bring encouragement for the coming winter to the workers.

CROP INSURANCE IN SASKATCHEWAN

Canadian Press

Regina, Nov. 8.—The Saskatchewan Government is definitely committed to a plan of crop insurance to provide assistance for farmers affected by crop failure either through drought, grasshoppers, hail or other causes, Premier James G. Gardiner announced in a statement issued here.

Under a plan now being considered by the government every farmer hit by adverse crop conditions would be guaranteed a bushel of a bushel and a half an acre to insure feed. The plan would be made operative possibly through collection of a small bushelage sales tax on every bushel of grain sold in Saskatchewan, and a fund established to be used in times of crop failure.
